HE WAS A PIRATE KING

Noted Puget Sound Outlaw Shot While Resisting Arrest.

BATTLE ON AN OPIUM SLOOP

Andrew Holt, Expert Smuggler and Navigator, Dying in Seattle.

THE GEORGE H CHANCE MISSING

Absent a Month, and Probably Lost, With Fifteen Men—Close of the Grand Army Encampment at Eugene

SEATTLE, Wash., March 13.—[Special Telegram.]—Andrew Holt, alias Andrew Anderson, a famous smuggler and pirate on Puget sound for years, was mortally shot at Salmon bay, just north of this city, to-night while resisting arrest at the hands of United States officers.

Holt has been known to be smuggling for many years. Two years ago he took the sloop Alaska loaded in a cargo mainly composed of whisky and went to Alaska to trade with the Indians. He was out there for about nine months when he was arrested and taken to Sitka for selling liquor to Indians. His sloop was confiscated and Holt was released on his own recognizance.

One stormy night Holt stole a sloop from the government stockade and disappeared. He sailed the sloop to Puget sound and one in a small sloop in the worst storm ever known on the coast, arriving here about fourteen months ago. Since then he has kept in hiding near Port Blakeley, when his wife lives on a ranch, and in Salmon bay, just north of the city, which he made his base of smuggling operations from Victoria.

Wednesday night United States officers arrested Michael B[illegible], an opium smuggler, and secured a clue to Holt's whereabouts. To-night Special Inspector Coblentz and Local Inspector Thompson learned that Holt was with his sloop in Salmon bay, and chartering the tug Mascot started out at 7 o'clock this evening to capture him. When they reached the mouth of Salmon bay they found it impossible to enter with the tug on account of low water. The officers accordingly went in in a small boat. Coblentz went aboard the sloop but found no one there while Thompson patrolled the shore. Coblentz then went ashore. After making a reconnoisance he returned to the sloop, and not finding Holt there was about to leave again when the smuggler stepped aboard. The officer covered him with a revolver and announcing his official capacity commanded him to surrender.

Holt uttered an oath, drew back and reached for his hip pocket. Coblentz then fired one shot into the air and Holt drew his revolver. Coblentz immediately fired a second shot which struck the smuggler in the wrist, followed by a third shot which struck him in the stomach, just above the nipple. He fell to the deck and his revolver dropped into the water. He rallied again and was about to rise when the officer fired a fourth shot which also struck him, it is thought in the stomach. Holt then fell over unconscious. The sloop was then towed to the Sound and brought to this city by the Mascot, arriving here shortly before midnight. Holt was given the best medical attention and removed to a hospital, but he will undoubtedly die before morning. He made a statement at midnight admitting that he attempted to kill the officer.

Holt after being taken to the hospital denied the theft of the confiscated sloop from the government in Alaska, which was in reality the charge upon which he was wanted. He admitted, however, that he had been in Alaska about a year ago engaged in trading with Indians. At 2 o'clock this morning he is very low and his physicians say he can not live many hours. He expressed no repentance and although suffering terrible agony shows remarkable nerve and makes no complaints. He says he has had a hard fight all his life and knows how to die like a man.

THE SCHOONER CHANCE MISSING

Hasn't Been Heard From for a Month—Fifteen Men on Board

ASTORIA, March 13.—[Special Telegram.]—The steam schooner George H. Chance, belonging to the Portland Deep Sea Fishing Company, which left here a month ago for a short fishing cruise, is reported lost. The revenue cutter Corwin has gone in search of her. The Chance was commanded by a new man, Captain G. W. Adams, not an experienced skipper, and her engineer had no sea license, hence mariners here think the report of her loss well founded. The vessel carried a crew of fifteen. Manager Williams, of the company owning her, came down February 27, expecting to meet the schooner here on her return, but was disappointed. He expressed no particular anxiety, then stating that the Chance might stay out a week or two longer.

The vessel is worth about $20,000 exclusive of fishing tackle and a cargo of ice and salt. She was built at Yaquina bay two years ago, for the Yaquina Deep Sea Fishing Company, since absorbed by the Portland company.

A CANOE IN MID-OCEAN.

Eight Pelew Islanders Picked Up When Nearly Famished

PORT TOWNSEND, March 13.—[Special Telegram.]—Eight native islanders of the Pelew group in the South Pacific ocean were picked up at sea on December 11, nearly dead from starvation and thirst, by the American ship Joseph S. Spinney, now in this port. The crew had been in an open canoe for eight days. They had embarked for a neighboring isle, when a heavy gale came up and blew them 200 miles from land, at the mercy of the wind and waves.

The party consisted of a king, his son and six members of his council. In this condition they remained eighteen days. One died the second day after a storm. On December 11 the old king, faint with hunger and mad with thirst, decided that his son Bovga, the boy aged 16, should be killed that his father and the others might live. The weak and emaciated party were making preparations for the sacrifice, the boy accepting his fate, when the white sails of the ship Joseph S. Spinney hove in sight and the boy was saved. The ship hove to and took the poor wretches on board. The king lay in the bottom of the canoe unable to move. The chief officer carried him on deck under his arm.

They presented a dreadful sight. Their stomachs were shrunk in, and they looked like living skeletons, the bones almost protruding through the skin. They were provided with nourishment, but threw away clothes in fear and disgust, preferring to wear only a loin cloth. Seven days after being picked up at sea the king died and the others slowly improved. They were taken to Hiogo, Japan, where the proper authorities will have them returned to their native isles. Their mode of appreciating the kindness of Captain Curling, of the ship Spinney, was to rub the back of his hand with their noses. The ship was here a few years ago from Europe laden with a general cargo for Seattle and Tacoma.

THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

Election of Officers of Both Societies—Next Meeting at Astoria

EUGENE, March 13.—[Special Telegram.]—The entertainment given by the Women's Relief Corps of this city in honor of the visiting Grand Army delegates and ladies last night was a marked success in all particulars. One of the most pleasing and profitable incidents of the encampment, however, occurred at 9 o'clock this morning when the comrades assembled at their quarters and forming marched with regimental band and colors flying to the rooms of the Woman's Relief Corps and accompanied them as an escort to the public school grounds where, after marshaling the school children 500 strong into a hollow square, surrounded them. When Department Commander McElroy in a few appropriate words presented a fine flag furnished by the ladies of the Women's Relief Corps for the use of the schools, Professor Williams, the principal, responded in good taste, after which three rousing cheers were given for the old flag by all present. Then the Grand Army of the Republic and Women's Relief Corps marched back to their respective headquarters and resumed business. The session has been a busy one and statistics show the order to be in a prosperous condition throughout the state with a gain for the past year of eight new posts and 311 members in the same time. The present membership is 1,4[illegible].

This afternoon the G. A. R. elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Department commander James A. Varney of Nesmith post No. [illegible], The Dalles; senior vice commander T. M. Martin, J. W. Geary post No. [illegible], Eugene; junior vice commander T. M. Miller, J. F. Miller post No. 42, Lebanon; medical director Dr. W. H. Saylor, George Wright post No. 1, Portland; chaplain Rev. J. F. Ellis, J. L. Matthews post No. [illegible], Forest Grove; council of administration, D. W. Mathews, Sedgwick post No. 10, Salem; Charles E. Dibble, Lincoln post No. [illegible], Portland, and George W. Gruner, Cushing post No. 14, Astoria; J. N. Patterson, Meade post No. [illegible], The Dalles, and H. F. McMillin, Sumner post No. [illegible], East Portland. The delegates to the national encampment are: At large, B. B. Tuttle, No. 1; Representative F. D. Winton, No. 1, and G. Summers, No. [illegible]. Alternates at large, C. F. Galbraith, No. 5; Representative E. A. Arnold, No. 3, and G. A. Johnson, No. 32.

The officers were installed by Department Commander McElroy, after which Department Commander Varney appointed W. S. Myers of No. [illegible] as assistant adjutant general and G. A. Johnson, No. [illegible], assistant quartermaster general.

The Women's Relief Corps at the same hour installed the following department officers: President, Mrs. Mary J. Ellis, corps No. [illegible]; senior vice president, Mrs. [illegible]; junior vice president, Mrs. [illegible]; chaplain, Mrs. Mary Chamberlain, corps No. 2, Portland.

The sessions throughout have been most harmonious and enjoyable, and the visiting ladies and gentlemen are enjoying a camp fire and supper.

The next grand encampment is to be held at Astoria on the second Wednesday of April 1891, the council of that city having guaranteed [illegible] water for bathing and participation in the Astoria boom.

The Independence Farmers Institute

INDEPENDENCE, March 13.—[Special Telegram.]—The opera house was well filled this evening at the opening session of the farmers institute under the auspices of the State Agricultural college. A. J. Goodman, ex-mayor, was chosen chairman and Professor F. Birchtoud secretary. President D. T. Stanley, of the Oregon State Normal school at Monmouth, delivered the address of welcome. He discussed the question of capital and labor and pointed out what had been accomplished. He advocated organization among farmers. Professor B. L. Arnold, of the State Agricultural college, responded. He felt gratified to receive so hearty a welcome. He would recommend Poor Richard's Almanac as the best book for the farmers to read. The education of the farmer benefits the whole state. As population increases faster than production, farmers must be educated to produce larger crops. The increase of population in the United States will bring questions which it will tax our government to solve. Hon. R. S. Wallace, of Salem, a member of the state board of horticulture, delivered an exhaustive address on the work of the state board and the experiments in ridding the state of the many fruit pests. The work has only begun. A number of farmers asked questions relative to the success of spraying orchards. Hon. E. T. Hatch, of McCoy, told "How We Miss It." Too much wheat is raised. He favored diversified farming, orchards, stall fed cattle, fine grades of cattle, horses and sheep. Farming is more profitable when it is a specialty. The large attendance insures a successful institute.

Dalles Garrison a Thieves Nest.

THE DALLES, March 13.—[Special Telegram.]—Sponogle, a boy of 16 years, was arrested two days ago for larceny of hay and grain in the suburbs of the city, being caught in the act of taking hay from Chambers's barn. He confessed the crime and implicated Hawthorne, who lives with his father and mother in one of the garrison buildings. Last evening Marshal Gibson and Deputy Sheriff Coles went to the house to arrest Hawthorne. When the officers opened the door he went through a trap-door to a cellar used as a stable and escaped by means of a door, the officers in hot pursuit. The young man distanced the officers and climbed a high rock and was perched there with revolver in hand. His father came and beckoned him to come down. He came down and ran away as fleet as a deer. The father saddled a horse and rode after him. The officers will get a posse to-night and capture the thief. A cache was found under the stable, in which were stored hay and grain. The garrison is a nest of thieves which the officers will break up. The house of young Hawthorne is a mile and a quarter from the city and easily accessible to the glens, mountains and timber.

La Grande Election Contest Compromised.

LA GRANDE, March 13.—[Special Telegram.]—It is stated that an agreement for settlement of the La Grande election contest has been arrived at and that the agreement is satisfactory to all concerned. The friends and supporters of Mr. Stanley, who on the face of the returns was elected mayor, met this afternoon and appointed a committee to meet with a like committee of the friends of Mr. Winn, and these committees have arranged the matter. As soon as Mr. Stanley heard there was evidence of fraud he peremptorily refused to accept the office even if a court should award it to him, thus manfully refusing to condone so serious a wrong as ballot box stuffing. Just what is the nature of the compromise is not definitely known, but it is understood that Mr. Winn is to be seated as mayor and W. J. Snodgrass and J. Palmer are to decline to serve as councilmen from the first ward and the council is to fill the vacancy by electing the men agreed upon.

NORTHERN PACIFIC OUTWITTED

The Manitoba Company to Have Terminals at All Puget Sound Ports—The Seattle Managers Actively at Work

PORT TOWNSEND, March 13.—[Special Telegram.]—H. W. McNeil, manager of the Oregon Improvement Company, signed contracts late last evening with the Port Townsend Southern Railroad Company to construct a line of railroad between this city and Portland, the work to commence April 1, twenty miles to be finished September 1 and seventy miles completed by next January. The negotiations had been pending several days, when the citizens subscribed nearly $1,000,000 in cash and land.

Mr. McNeill said that Elijah Smith, of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, had received a proposition to make this the terminus and that the question was to be submitted to the directorate. The board of directors have privately expressed their preference for this city for a deep-water shipping point and little doubt exists but that the transcontinental system will terminate in this city.

Officers have been secured, engineers engaged, and by April 1 Mr. McNeill says 1000 men will be at work. Two corps will be located in this county and active operations commenced. The first twenty mile section will cost half a million dollars. Tools, teams, machinery and laborers will arrive here the latter part of next week.

The people are fairly wild with enthusiasm, and every available storeroom throughout the city is secured and numerous contracts for erecting large buildings consummated.

SOLD TO THE GREAT NORTHERN.

Nelson Bennett's Road Annexed to the Seattle & Montana System

TACOMA, March 13.—[Special Telegram.]—Negotiations have been opened and it is authoritatively stated are now in progress looking to the purchase of the Fairhaven & Southern road from Nelson Bennett by the Seattle & Montana Company (the Great Northern) through Messrs. Gilman, Burke and others. Mr. Bennett will not admit this as a fact, but neither will he deny it.

Mr. Bennett does say though that the Fairhaven & Southern road will soon be built to Seattle, but by whom he will not tell. It may be accepted as a fact, the circumstantial evidence being so strong, that the Great Northern, through its manipulators in charge of its West coast division, has absorbed the Fairhaven & Southern and will run its trains to Fairhaven.

The Northern Pacific people are strong in the belief that the Fairhaven & Southern road is part and parcel of the Great Northern system. A railroad man pretty well posted and whose prognostications in two important instances came out correctly, said to-day: "There can be but little doubt that the Great Northern people have got Bennett's road, the Fairhaven & Southern. I got it from good authority to-day that a scheme had been consummated by which Bennett agreed to take a block of Great Northern stock for his road, and that he will be associated ultimately in the direction of its affairs. I do not believe the Great Northern will stop even at Fairhaven. I think it will be continued on down the Sound as far as practicable, probably to as near a point to the ocean as can be obtained."

The Burlington and Northern Purchase.

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—Pennsylvania railroad officials deny the stories published this morning connecting that road with the purchase of Western and Southern roads. They believe, however, that the Louisville and Nashville has bought the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago road. The statement that the Pennsylvania road is likely to acquire the Manitoba road is said by officials to be without foundation.

BOSTON, March 13.—It comes from an official source that nobody is in the Chicago, Burlington & Northern purchase but the Burlington & Quincy.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Officials of the Manitoba Company when asked if there was any truth in the report that the Manitoba was interested in the purchase of the Burlington & Northern, said they had never heard of the deal until it was announced in the papers. They had no reason to believe the Manitoba was interested in the purchase.

Tacoma Baseball Club.

TACOMA, March 13.—[Special Telegram.]—A meeting of a few gentlemen interested in sports was held this evening for the purpose of organizing a baseball club. The situation was discussed and committees were then appointed to look up suitable grounds and see that the capital stock was subscribed. Manager Cummings, of the Street Railway Company, said that he would see that the club had good grounds somewhere on the line of the road, so that access to them would be convenient. John S. Barnes, of St. Paul, was present and explained the details of the league organization. Although the club will be organized with a capital stock of $10,000, it is more than likely that an assessment of 25 per cent will be sufficient to carry the club through the season.

Adams, the noted pulpit orator and educator, who had been elected to the presidency of Spokane College. CITIES UNDER WATER

The Bloated Mississippi River Storming the Breastworks.

ANOTHER BATTLE OF NEW ORLEANS

Armies of Men Guarding the Levees—Deplorable Condition of Arkansas Sections—Rain Still Feeding the Flood

NEW ORLEANS, March 13.—The river here at 2 to was 16.9 feet and at 2:30 had reached 17 feet, but it remained at that point but a short time, when it receded to 16 feet 8 inches, where it seemed to make a stand. This was six inches above the precedent of October ... and the water was over the levees all along the city front ... very depression or low place and soon flooded the streets and sidewalks of a large section of the city.

Up town, at the head of Jackson, Washington and Sarapurue streets, the water washed over the levee and submerged the streets and sidewalks; the same thing occurred at other points down to Poydras street. Here the water spread over the broad space occupied by the Morgan road and then began to flow down Poydras street and out into the cross-streets on other side and filling the gutters back to the drainage canals in the rear of the city. From Custom House street to Conta the water came over the levees freely and completely submerged the streets and in many places the sidewalks and lower floors of business houses from the north side of canal to Hospital street, a distance of fourteen blocks from the river ... Rampart street, a distance of eight blocks. The damage done so far is not great.

The greatest damage was that sustained by merchants who had sugar stored in bonded warehouses on the levees. The Southern and Crescent Oil mills were washed under by the water and the floors were torn away and embankments built underneath. A break occurred at the Hatch place near Harvey's canal, but it only reached a width of four feet when it was discovered and promptly closed. It is still a dangerous spot as the levee is very weak. The levee at Sharp's place, five miles above Gretna, where there was a serious crevasse some years ago, is again creating anxiety as it shows signs of weakening.

From Canal street ferry to the Morgan depot, the principal portion of Algiers, a distance of three quarters of a mile, the situation at one time was very threatening. About noon water commenced washing over the levee along its whole length and in a short space of time the entire front and the streets for ten blocks back were flooded. Yardmaster Maguire, of the Morgan road, and the city forces immediately went to work and in four hours threw up an entire new levee. That stopped the flow temporarily, but the water is already knee deep on Front street.

Just below Algiers is the Orleans levee, which commands a large section of country. A new levee was constructed only a few days ago, but the river has been climbing up and to-day the warning signal was given again. The water was six inches deep over the levee's crest. Men and material were promptly furnished and a gallant effort is being made to stay the flood.

The council to-night appropriated $50,000 for work on the levees during the danger period. At Natchez the levee on Davis island, Lake Concordia, gave way, flooding the Novelty, Evergreen, Sefura, Morgan and Potawama plantations.

1:30 A. M.—It has been raining steadily but slowly since 8 P. M. and the rainfall added to the water passing the outer levee in front of the city and running back has overflowed a large section of the city in the vicinity of Claiborne street. The river gauge shows no material change. The water is flowing over the levee rapidly at the head of Peters street and the sidewalks and streets in the vicinity are covered with water. It is also running over the levee pretty freely at Third, Fourth, Sixth, Eighth, Felicity, Parapacter and Sato streets. Gangs of men are at work along the levee at many points and the flow of water into the city may be checked if there is no further rise. The railroads are doing good work in assisting the authorities all along the line. The outlook to-night, however, is by no means reassuring.

MEMPHIS, March 13.—The river is in an alarming condition. The highest flood level ever recorded is already reached at many points south of here and will likely be attained from Cairo to the gulf within the next five or six days. The rainfall the past three days sums up a total from two to three inches over the country lying west of Mississippi to Indian territory and the South Ozark range, and from two to five inches between the Ohio and Cumberland valleys.

An Appeal reporter has just returned from Arkansas City and says the real condition at that place has been suppressed. The water from the Bapt ington creek has flooded the town and surrounding country. Hundreds of hogs and sheep are drowned and people are in constant fear of a break in the levee in front of the city, where the water yesterday rose four inches upon the sand banks on top of the levee.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 13.—The situation at Newport, Ark., at the confluence of the White and Black rivers, is one of extreme danger. The water is within a few inches of the top of the levee which surrounds town and is rising at the rate of three inches an hour. The inhabitants are greatly excited. Should the levees break the destruction will be terrible. At Batesville all that portion of the town through which the Iron Mountain tracks run is a foot under water and trains abandoned. Reports from Black river valley show that the low lands are now under at places so deep that the tree tops alone are visible. Jacksonport is under water from two to four feet. Telegraph and telephone wires are down in all directions and no estimate of the damage can be made.

A Gazette special from Black Rock, Lawrence county, gives a distressing account of the flood in that section. Black river, along which are many mills, is ten inches higher than ever known before, and all the sawmills are under water. A vast amount of timber has been washed away. Workmen with families are in great want and considerable distress is felt among settlers. Every house in Powhattan, the county seat of Lawrence county, is under water except the post office. Several bridges were washed away, and horses, cattle and hogs drowned.

GREENVILLE, Miss., March 13.—Special reports up to 3 o'clock from all points in the levee district above and below indicate that all is serene on this side of the river. Every preparation is being made for any possible breaks on weak places that may occur in the levees. Rain has fallen here for fifty-four hours, with but slight intermissions, and the total has not exceeded five inches. It is still raining and indications are that it will rain all to-night. The river here rose one and a half inches in the past twenty-four hours, and is still rising.

Fire in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, March 13.—The American Fa ty Production Company's works at Peet and North Peter streets were burned this afternoon, together with other buildings on the square. The losses aggregate $70,000, fully insured. Soule's brewery was only slightly scorched.

GOULD FIGHTING WANAMAKER

The Postmaster General Claims Pacific Telegraph Lines for the Government's ...

NEW YORK, March ... —[Special.] The ... —Postmaster General Wanamaker is ... of postal telegraphy ... His ... would ... the use of the ... railroad lines ... of the system ... from the Missouri river to the Pacific. The government has a ... on the Pacific railroads and their telegraph lines on account of subsidies granted for their construction, and because they guaranteed their bonds. There is a question whether the government would also have the right to utilize the telegraph lines of ... lines built by the Union and Central Pacific companies out of the earnings ... of leased roads.

If this point is established then the richest and most popular sections of the entire trans-Missouri country would be provided with a telegraph system that could be incorporated with the one established by the government. Wanamaker desires to make use of these lines, and under such circumstances was naturally startled last week when his attention was called to a little scheme of Gould by which he was to be headed off. Section 30 of the Frye funding bill for the extension of the Union Pacific's debt to the government, would seriously interfere with the postal telegraph scheme, as it provides for removal of all government control of the Union Pacific. The directory of the Union Pacific Company, however, consists largely of persons who are directors in the Western Union Telegraph Company. For this reason telegraph facilities which the government intended should be enjoyed by the public generally have been monopolized.

This clause would permit the Western Union to retain its monopoly of all the Pacific wires without any hindrance, and the postmaster general has accordingly resolved that this clause of the bill, at least, must be beaten. On the other hand, Gould will not listen to anything that does not abolish government control of the Union Pacific, and as he practically controls the board of directors now it will be impossible to make the railroad company accept any bill that does not contain this provision.

The Northern Pacific are now selling first class limited tickets through to Chicago for $67, second class $39. These are the lowest rates now in effect.

The town is growing south.

THE AMERICAN NAVY'S DISGRACE

A Warship Sent to Europe to Exhibit Drunkenness and Savage Cruelty

NEW YORK, March 13.—The third session of the McCalla inquiry opened to-day. The first witness was Lieutenant P. J. Werlich. He told about men being put in canvas sacks, a lot of men being ironed together; also how an apprentice named Graham had been confined in double irons for five days. The apprentice was released by order of Commander McCalla as was also a man who had been ironed through some misapprehension. Men were ironed two and two and kept on deck under ... marine ... captain ... others were chained at night to a ringbolt, ... while ... at Pouch France ... the case of ... the man had been confined ... for ... the rules of the navy. ... hour ... was ... came drunk while on duty. A number of the crew ... for target practice ... their arms. A man named ... overboard to escape punishment. ... At Plymouth liberty was given to thirty men at 1 o'clock in the morning.

Surgeon C. C. Herndon was the next witness. He told of the cutting down of Walker. A little before midnight he went on deck and was told that Walker had been cut by the commander. Witness dressed the wound on Walker's head, which was about an inch and a half long. The man became noisy and was given morphine. This was repeated at 2 o'clock. Witness did not see a gag in the mouth of Walker. The wound was not dangerous.

Witness claimed that McCalla treated the officers and crew with every courtesy. The sanitary condition of the ship was good.

Assistant Paymaster Mudd told of the Walker incident and said he did not think Walker was so very drunk. It was necessary to discipline Walker and he was glad to see McCalla reduce him to submission by cutting him down. Things were getting serious and the commander asserted his authority at the right time.

Assistant Engineer Bennett testified that Oiler Whelan was placed in irons and afterwards compelled to shovel coal as punishment for the breaking down of the steam launch while Whelan was running it. Armorer Kennedy was cursed on the deck by McCalla and relieved from duty for the accidental discharge of a revolver. Many men were put in straitjackets for days, and others were lashed to the Jacob's ladder.

Chief Engineer Entwistle testified to punishment already in evidence.

Ensign Kline testified to the punishment of men and said the commander seldom or never investigated the complaints. He admitted having written a friend during the cruise that he thought the ship the most unhappy one in the service.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—In the United States district court to-day the trial was begun of Henry Gillespie, first officer of the ship Edward O'Brien, for beating and wounding two sailors on that vessel while on the high seas. The sailors' names are Frank Thompson and Emil Fehline.

In the case of the United States against Henry Gillespie, first mate of the ship Ward O'Brien, charged with cruelty to seamen, the jury acquitted the defendant without leaving their seats.

Ladd, Providence; lieutenant governor, Daniel G. Littlefield, Pawtucket; secretary of state, Samuel W. These are the present incumbents, except attorney general, the democratic candidate having been elected last year.

Vesuvius Guns Successfully Tested

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—A final official test of the pneumatic guns of the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius was made to-day. The result will not be made public until the report reaches the secretary of the navy, but it is understood to have been satisfactory. One explosive shell filled with gun cotton, weighing 100 pounds, was fired from each gun in addition to several wooden bombs. The firing was done over a measured mile and the projectiles are said to have gone in some instances a third of a mile beyond the distance. Three different fuses were used, the first being a kind to explode the projectile in five and one-half seconds after striking the water, the next in one and one-half seconds, and the last on touching the water. The shock from the latter was felt in the city of Chester, four miles distant. The explosion of each shell was followed by a violent commotion of the water, and those who witnessed it say no vessel could stand the force shown.

Trial of the Wisconsin Lynchers.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 13.—The trial of the first three persons charged with the Oleson lynching at Whitehall, Wis., was concluded to-day so far as testimony is concerned. The wife and son of the murdered man and Ole Elotto, a well-to-do farmer, have been on trial for what, according to the judge's charges, is murder in the first degree. Thirty other men will plead guilty to a charge of rioting, though the judge's charge is unmistakable that they are all guilty of conspiracy and murder.

The jury to-night returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree against Mrs. Oleson, Ole Hansen and Ole Setto. The two first named were the wife and son respectively of the man lynched. About thirty of the persons who took part in the outrage pleaded guilty to riot and were fined $100 each. Charles Johnson, who pleaded guilty with the three others convicted to-day, will be sentenced to prison for life.

The Lottery Commissioners Resign.

ST. PAUL, March 13.—At Bismarck to-day the North Dakota seed wheat commission, appointed to devise ways and means to relieve destitute farmers, resigned. In communicating their resignation, after reciting the necessity for action and the manner of their appointment, stating that "the state should be and is able to relieve its needy citizens," and mentioning the lottery relief scheme recommended by them, they concluded: "In view of the summary rejection of the lottery proposal the members of said commission decline further to act under the concurrent resolution appointing them." The feature of the communication is the statement that the state is able to relieve its needy citizens, which seems slightly inconsistent with acceptance of aid of the lottery company.

CHICAGO, March 13.—A special from Butte, Mont., this morning stated that Judge Andrew J. Davis, a wealthy citizen, had died leaving an estate of $10,000,000, all of which would go to his brother John A. Davis of Chicago. A reporter spent the day in hunting up all the John Davises in the city directory, but though all expressed a perfect willingness to take charge of the millions, they were obliged to regretfully say that they never before heard of Judge Davis and that they had no relatives in the West.

His Drunkenness Killed Sixty People

PRESCOTT, A. T., March 13.—People here are very indignant over the discharge of Dan Burke, the man who was sent to warn settlers along the Hassayampa river of danger prior to the breaking of the Walnut Grove dam, and instead of doing so became intoxicated. It is thought some sixty persons lost their lives on this account. He was arrested by Sheriff O'Neill on a charge of manslaughter, but has now been released on the ground that there is no provision in the laws of Arizona under which he can be punished.

PITTSBURG, March 13.—In the sensational trial of Rev. Dr. Mauselle of the Methodist Episcopal church of McKeesport, for lying and defamation of character, a scene was created to-day when counsel of the reverend gentleman refused to go on with the case. Strong opposition was manifested to the bill because of this exemption and the vote was reconsidered. The bill was then recommitted to the ... committee on revenue and taxation, which held a meeting after adjournment and decided to report against the exemptions.

In the house this morning Evans introduced a number of documents relating to voyages for commerce and discovery to the Northwest coast of America from 1787 to 1793, during which the discovery of the Columbia river was made by Captain Robert Gray in the ship Columbia, and valuable and important discoveries were made by Captain John Kendrick in the sloop Washington in the seas adjacent to the present state of Washington, which discoveries contributed greatly to the support of the claim of the United States to the territory north of the Columbia river. Mr. Evans moved reference of the documents to the committee on harbors and navigable waters, with instructions to report a memorial to congress praying recognition of the claims of the heirs-at-law of said discoverers and the projectors of the commercial voyages which brought them about. It was so ordered and Mr. Evans was granted leave to withdraw the documents after the house had acted upon them. The voyages were projected by the Boston Commercial Co., in which one Bulfinch was interested. One of his descendants lives at Tacoma and another at Port Townsend. Gray's harbor was originally called Bulfinch harbor.

Senator L. F. Thompson returned from Seattle this morning with statements of Judge Struve and Judge Burke relative to the land on which the university is situated in that city in his inside pocket. It will be remembered that Senator Thompson was delegated a few days ago by the senate to visit Seattle to obtain the testimony of these gentlemen upon this matter, and the statements are the result of this trip. Both Judge Struve and Judge Burke said the land was vested in the state beyond question and that the property would bring in the market to-day not less than $750,000. Struve's statement, which he submitted in writing, is indorsed by Judge Burke. The statement is very voluminous.

In view of what was written by Judge Struve, Senator Thompson will introduce on Monday a bill authorizing the governor to direct immediate sale of the ten acre tract on which the university is situated. The bill will also provide for the creation of a board of three commissioners to be empowered with authority to purchase or obtain a tract of not less than forty acres nor more than 160 on which the new university will be located. The tract is to be within ten miles of Seattle.

The tideland bill will hardly be considered in the senate before Wednesday or Thursday of next week. The friends of the measure are daily strengthening their lines, and fair minded people are of the opinion that ... will pass the upper chamber without any material opposition or amendment. Strong pressure is being brought to bear upon Eastern senators by friends of the measure, and it is not unlikely that when the fight begins the lines of the bunchgrassers will be speedily routed by the Western men. Tom Griffitts of Spokane ... at the capital ... and is urging Eastern senators to stand firm against the bill, but it is not thought ... will ... disaffection among the supporters of the bill.

The senate had under consideration this afternoon the committee substitute bill No. ..., providing for a general and uniform system of public schools for their state. The general features of the bill are good and amendments were made correcting the few errors in it. It will undoubtedly be passed by the senate practically as it was reported. Its provisions are liberal and will, in conjunction with the city school bill passed last Thursday, allow of as complete and perfect a system of public schools in Washington as is to be found in any of the other states. The joint committee having the matter in charge have from time to time called to their assistance many of the prominent educators of the state and the practical experience of these men has been valuable in formulating the bill.

Petitions in favor of Herren's bill creating Sherman county are beginning to arrive, and a delegation will come here shortly to urge passage of the bill. The house committee on counties and county lines will consider the bill next Thursday. It is expected it will report favorably on the bill. Representative Grubb of Spokane favors the bill. Cheney, his home, will be made the temporary county seat.

Plummer introduced a bill to-day authorizing the governor to appoint harbormasters in towns if the council so petitions. Harbormasters shall hold office for two years and shall be entitled to receive as compensation $3 for every vessel boarded, coasting vessels being excepted. If unnecessarily detained on board a vessel more than two hours harbormasters shall be paid $1 per hour.

The house ways and means committee and the senate committee on revenue and taxation held the first joint meeting this evening to consider the general appropriation bill. Several of the state officers submitted a statement of what their probable expenses would be for the period from November 1889 to March, 1891.

Bird's bill creating the office of state examiner of locomotive engineers and Spencer's bill authorizing counties having 10,000 inhabitants to elect county recorders were killed in the house to-day. Hunter gave notice that he would move to reconsider the former.

After Senator Watt's bill providing for the organization of new counties had been partially considered in the house this afternoon an effort was made to indefinitely postpone it. This failed and the bill was laid on the table.

The house members of the joint committee appointed to dispense with unnecessary committee clerks reported in substance to-day that all clerks are employed either upon their own or other committees.

Senator Hoyle returned to-day to fight and vote ... the ... bill which passed the house ... He ... is greatly ... liked in Eastern Washington.

TERRIBLE BUTCHERY IN PERU.

Drunken Indians Slay Three Hundred People—Bloody Political Campaign

PANAMA, March 1 .—A correspondent writing from Lima says the agitation in the provinces caused by antagonism between the two candidates of the constitutional party for the presidential nomination has assumed grave proportions. At Fu ... here was a collision resulting in the loss of a number of lives and the pillage of many houses.

There was also a collision at Huanta, many on both sides being killed, among them the chiefs of both parties, Senor La ... deputy of congress, and head of the revolution, and Dr. Urtina, chief of the Rosas party. Dr. Urtina, after five members of his family had been killed, took refuge with the others in a church, where many women, children and old people had already gathered. The priests exhorted the Indians to desist from the butchery, but the Indians were drunk and incapable of reasoning. They threatened to burn the church when Dr. Urtina, knowing he was the cause of their action and wishing to save the lives of the other people, determined to sacrifice himself and after receiving the benediction of the priest went out to the guerrillas and was murdered. Not satisfied with this, they in their drunken fury continued their career of butchery for four hours. Three hundred lives were sacrificed.

Colonel Donahue's Will

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1 .—[Special Telegram.]—In connection with the will of Colonel Donahue it has been discovered that a law passed in 1874 prohibits leaving more than one third of an estate to charity. C. F. Hanlon, counsel for Colonel Donahue, says the main bequest of the will goes ... under this section, as it is a trust in the ... city officers to erect a home for old people ... not necessarily charitable, but contributive by the inmates to a certain extent. A statute passed since ... legalizes ... taking up ancient real estate when the trustees are appointed by corporate officers of the municipality. It is stated by an ... that the Donahue ... left no estate. The entire property is in a railroad with $6,000,000 capital ... but there is a mortgage of $1,000,000 on ... the mortgagees also hold $ ... stock as still further security. This leaves little for the estate. Mr. Hanlon, however, denounces this statement as bosh.

WANTS TO IMPROVE THE NEHALEM

Will Not Obstruct the River, but Intends to Put a Steamer on It

Mr. ... Hersham, speaking in regard to a ... dispatch concerning his application to the county court of Clatsop county for a lease of a part of the Nehalem river, says his object is ... there would be no object on to it. He has no intention of booming the river to prevent the free passage of logs, but wishes to improve the river. He says that while when the water is high the river is clear for rafting logs, when it is at ... stage a skiff cannot navigate it without being pushed over riffles in places. It is his desire to have the obstructions removed and also some snags so as to make the river navigable for a small steamer up to some distance above the lower railroad crossing. The riffles in the river are of hardened clay or a kind of soapstone and can be easily removed. The placing of his steamboat on the river would be a great accommodation to all settlers along the river, as roads are very poor in that section.

RESCUED FROM THE RIVER

Charles Duncan, of Albina, while under the influence of liquor, fell into the river this morning from the Albina boat's pontoon at the foot of Stark street. He was rescued by the ferryman, who heard his groans, and was taken to the police station.

"Not Guilty" of Neglect.

Eugene Register

The grand jury last week indicted Edward Vaud of Cottage Grove, for manslaughter, and he was brought down from there last Thursday morning. He is the man reported as having caused the death of his wife by neglecting her while she was sick. The case was tried Saturday before the circuit court. A number of witnesses were brought down from Cottage Grove, among them ... being several who are said to have circulated the first report. At the trial the testimony showed that the woman had received care at the hands of her husband and his folks during all the time after the birth of her child, and until her death. Perhaps the attention paid her was not what it should have been, but owing to their circumstances it was the best they could afford. The prosecution really had no grounds for conviction, and after the case went to the jury they were but ten minutes bringing in a verdict acquitting the defendant. Suffice it to say that it was the weakest criminal case ever tried in Lane county. Dr. Ogle ... testified that Mrs. Snodgrass, Ed. Waud's sister, was a faithful and efficient nurse during the entire illness of Mrs. Vaud.

On the rolling prairies. A band of cowboys has captured a horse thief.

Cowboys (in gleeful chorus): "We've got you now, you villain, and you are going to swing."

[They prepare the rope and select a convenient tree.]

The villain: "Hold on, boys. I'll bet you the drinks you don't stretch my neck."

Cowboys: "Oh, won't we just?"

[They pinion his arms.]

The villain: "I can put you on to some valuable secrets."

[They tie his feet together.]

The villain: "I know where $60,000 in gold is buried."

[They adjust the noose to his neck.]

The villain: "I can put you on to a new silver mine."

[They commence to hoist him up.]

The villain: "And I've got sixty new tricks at cards."

Chorus of voices (excitedly): "Hold on! Let him down."

[He is let down, released and pardoned.]

Here and There Travelers Must Stop Around a Fall in Mountain to Change Cars—Incidents of the Opium Trade

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—[Special Telegram.] The steamer Oregon sailed for Portland and Astoria this morning with 120 cabin passengers and fifty in the steerage. She took no United States mails, and when ex-Governor Perkins was asked why this was so he said: "Well, the government can't afford it. They are going to send mail overland hereafter and the people in Portland and Astoria will not get any mail for some time in my opinion. We have sent by steamer about fifty letters written by people who have no faith in the railroad route and would not send their letters in the mails. The British government, however, continues to pay us for bringing mail to this city from British Columbia and it pays about $33 per sack, while we charge the United States only about $10. The department could not afford that."

At the railway mail service office it was stated to-day that mails could now be sent to Oregon by rail and would be. Mr. Flint admitted that some tramps would have to be made and some staging done along the route, but even with those inconveniences the mails would get through as quickly and oftener than by steamer. The road is not by any means in running condition all along the line, but with transfers and stages the trip can be made.

THE OPIUM TRAFFIC.

Capture of a Boatload of the Drug—An Employe of the Puebla Caught.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—Customs Officer Crittenden made a seizure of $2500 worth of opium early this morning and captured a man giving the name of William Bourne, who was afterwards held on a charge of smuggling. The officer saw Bourne passing near the Arctic Oil Works in a small boat which contained some bags. He ordered him to stop, but the man rowed away, and Crittenden fired six shots after him. A launch was procured and the man soon overtaken, when the bags were found to contain opium and a seizure was made. Bourne said he got the drug from a schooner and supposed it was coal.

To-day Customs Inspector O'Leary, while guarding the steamer City of Puebla at the Broadway dock, which vessel arrived from Victoria, B. C., last night, arrested Rudolph Putts, a fireman, while he was leaving the vessel with three tins of opium concealed under his coat. He was brought before Commissioner Sawyer and held to await the action of the United States grand jury in the sum of $500 bail.

Pimples to Scrofula

Terrible Skin and Scalp Disease. Psoriasis Eight Years. Head, Arms and Breast a Solid Scab. Best Doctors and Medicines Fail. Cured by Cuticura at a cost of $3.75.

Cured by Cuticura

I used two bottles of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, three boxes of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and am cured of a terrible skin and scalp disease known as psoriasis. I had it for eight years. It would get better and worse at times. Sometimes my head would be a solid scab, and was at the time I began the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. My arms were covered with scabs from my elbows to my shoulders, my breast was almost one solid scab, and my back covered with sores varying in size from a penny to a dollar. I had doctored with all the best doctors with no relief, and used many different medicines without effect. My case was hereditary, and I began to think incurable, but it began to heal from the first application.

ARCHER RUSSELL, Deshler, Ohio.

A Grateful Mother

I thank you for your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and feel that in doing so I might be able to save some person from a heavy doctor's bill, which I know it has done for me. My baby was seven weeks old when I began to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES for a disease which had spread itself all over its head and face. I was nearly distracted; had been to the doctors, but got no satisfaction. Before two days use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES the scabs began to loosen, and in three weeks I could hardly believe that it was the baby I used to dread people seeing. He is perfectly cured, and has a beautiful growth of hair coming. I am very grateful to you.

A Miraculous and Speedy Cure of Catarrh which had Extended to the Eye and Threatened Blindness and Death.

J. D. CORBETT MADE A NEW MAN.

A Terrible Sufferer from that Prevalent Disease Instantly Relieved when Death Seemed Almost Inevitable, by Dr. Aborn, the Successful Eye, Ear, Catarrh, Throat & Lung Physician.

HE WRITES HIS OWN TESTIMONIAL,

And Swears to It Before W. W. Roberts, Deputy United States Marshal, as Acting Notary.

CITY OF PORTLAND }
COUNTY OF MULTNOMAH } ss.

Personally appeared before me this 8th day of March, 1890, J. D. Corbett, who being duly sworn, deposes and says:

I CHEERFULLY, WITH A GRATEFUL HEART, state the facts concerning my case and my almost magic relief under the skillful treatment of Dr. Aborn, Fourth and Morrison streets, Portland, which are as follows:

I have been PAINFULLY AND SERIOUSLY AFFLICTED with NASAL CATARRH and have paid out to doctors over a thousand dollars during the past year without permanent relief. But instead of relief I FOUND MYSELF IN ALMOST A DYING CONDITION one week ago. The disease spread to my left eye, which was so inflamed that it was closed tight, so that it was impossible to see that I had an eye in my head, and the pain was so great and intense that I had not slept for five nights, nor had I been able to eat a mouthful of anything for a week. I was put on the train at Kamela, Oregon, some 287 miles east of Portland, for the purpose of visiting Dr. Aborn at Portland, and I did not really seem to care whether I lived another day or not, my suffering was so great and intense.

I arrived in Portland last Saturday, March 1, and came direct from the train to the office of Dr. ABORN at noon. The doctor took my case in hand and IN FIVE HOURS TIME, TO MY GREAT SURPRISE AND RELIEF, BY HIS SKILLFUL TREATMENT I COULD OPEN MY EYE AND I WENT TO BED THAT NIGHT AND SLEPT FOR THE FIRST TIME IN A WEEK, and the PAINS and INFLAMMATION ALL SUBSIDED SO RAPIDLY THAT IN 48 HOURS I FELT and LOOKED LIKE A NEW MAN, and have IMPROVED SO RAPIDLY IN A WEEK'S TIME THAT ONE WHO SAW ME LAST SATURDAY WHO WOULD SEE ME TO-DAY WOULD SCARCELY BELIEVE THAT I AM THE SAME MAN. I now eat and sleep as was my custom before being ill.

I have not language to express my praise for the gratitude I feel toward Dr. Aborn for the speedy relief he has given me, which was almost instantaneous.

LIGHTNING CURES.

Two Prominent People Publicly Proclaim Positive Relief and Cure by Electricity.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: Through the testimonials which appear in almost every paper of the state praising Drs. Darrin for their skill in curing and relieving the afflicted who call on them, I am happy to say I have at last found a road to health. I have suffered for years with kidney complaint, causing great pain in my back and extending down to the sciatic nerve, at times almost unbearable, also loss of vigor, energy and courage. I had about given up that there was any help for me when I met Dr. Darrin performing his lightning cures. Now, after a few weeks of his electro magnetic treatment, I feel almost like a boy, and perfectly free from pain. If any one suffering from any curable disease will give the doctor a trial, in my judgment, you will be entirely cured. I cheerfully recommend them to the afflicted.

Respectfully, J. W. KEENEY,
Long Creek, Grant county, Or.

A Remarkable Cure.

Editor Daily Oregonian: For many years I have been a great sufferer from various afflictions, which women are subject to, to wit: Womb, kidney, stomach and head troubles, with such severity at times as to become nearly insane, and prayed that death would come and relieve me of my sufferings, as I saw all former physicians and remedies prescribed afforded me no relief, and despaired of ever getting well. In this condition I was induced to call on Drs. Darrin and consult them in reference to my case. They gave me encouragement and I put myself under their treatment. Now, after a few months' treatment I feel like one snatched from the jaws of death; their treatment has brought sunshine and brightness to my mind, healthy action to my liver, strength and vitality to my stomach and perfectly free from pain, and my other troubles are gone. I gladly give my name to the public as one rescued from suffering and death by Dr. Darrin's peculiar treatment. Can be referred to at Prineville, Oregon.

MRS. JOSEPH SMITH.

THE MANY AMUSEMENTS.

Good Houses and Good Performances at Theaters Still the Order of the Day—A Balloon Ascension.

"Ray" was presented last night at the Marquam Grand by Maggie Mitchell and her company, before the largest house of the engagement.

"Ray" is new in Portland. This is its initial season. It was written by Mr. C. Wallace Walters, a journalist of Philadelphia. He has written one play for Gus Williams which ran two seasons, and "Pop" for Sol Smith Russell, which ran one. "Ray" is his most ambitious effort. The story is of a reckless man who runs away with a woman beneath him in the social scale. He marries her, but this fact remains unknown to the little world in which Ray, the offspring of the union, moved. She is scorned, and when an honest lad, but rich and aristocratic, wishes to wed the heroine, proud relations come between. The father of the girl, an outcast, is supposed to have committed murder, but in the end his good name is cleared, the daughter's legitimacy is established, property interests are readily settled, and the curtain falls upon contentment and happiness to all. In addition to this resume there is an attempt made to handle the question of the conflicting interests of labor and capital, that possesses more ambition in purpose than success in execution. It may be thus readily seen that the plot of "Ray" is neither strikingly new or original. It has the merit of clean cut characterization, and contains promises of better things from its author. The story of man's weakness and woman's pathos and power is as old as time, though it comes to us in its periodical new dress and novel trimming.

As Ray Golden, Miss Mitchell has a character that seems to have been constructed for her. She handled it skillfully, naturally and easily. The gradual change that thought and study bring to womanhood was truly and carefully expressed, as well as scorn, indignation and melting tenderness when wrung out by the bravery of the man of her choice.

Mr. Charles Abbott had an interesting part in that of Gabe Wilden, the outcast, Ray's father. Her work was marked by care. He never overacts, and the quietness of his method gives strong evidence of reserve power. Simeon Stea, the labor reformer, who never worked, but existed upon the plaudits of his kind, and who having nothing else to do, graduated into politics, was humorously portrayed by H. F. McClannin. Percy Vorell, the lover, was played, not however without a little stiffness, by Mr. William Wilson. Mr. George W. Deyo played the villain, Mark Walworth, with splendid judgment; he was cold and heartless and contrived to secure the gallery hiss, the surest tribute to an actor's worth. Ellie Dean, the young heiress, with a big heart and a wonderous capacity for falling in and out of love, was well done by Miss Virginia Nelson, and Mrs. Vorell, the proud mother, was well portrayed by Mrs. Geo. F. De Vere. All the other people in the cast did acceptable and capable work.

Nothing better in the way of stage setting has been seen here for some time. From the old well to the snow and jingle of the sleigh bell, there was a constant succession of realistic pictures that proved a revelation to the audience.

"Fanchon" will be the bill for to-night with the same cast which presented it on the opening night.

New Park Theater.

Miss Caroline Gage appeared last night in the title role of "Esmeralda" to a very fair house. Miss Gage improves on acquaintance, and in the character of Esmeralda is even more charming than in any of her previous efforts. The rest of the company were very good, and the entire play was presented to the evident satisfaction of the audience, who were generous in their applause. To-night the "Galley Slave" will be put on again.

NEXT WEEK AT NEW PARK.

When Augustin Daly's troupe appeared here last season in "A Night Off," they played to crowded houses at the old prices of admission. When they come next week it is certain that the New Park will overflow at the popular prices inaugurated lately by Manager Howe.

SOL SMITH RUSSELL.

Next week Sol Smith Russell, fresh from brilliant engagements in New York city, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago, will present his new play, "A Poor Relation," at the Marquam Grand. Mr. Russell, as everbody knows, is the one comedian of his kind. He is inimitable, and always refined and always amusing. In his new play he has a legitimate comedy, and the critics are saying that the mantle of Joseph Jefferson will fall on his shoulders. Mr. Russell is supported by the largest and best company he has ever had, and his engagement next week will be the comedy event of the season. Seats for the performance will go on sale to-day.

Cordray's Musee-Theater.

The pleasing play of "Ingomar" still holds its own, and as it is a popular play, one does not tire of listening to the trials of Ingomar and Parthenia. It brings one back to childhood's days when the public used to read the old story.

The play has drawn crowded houses nightly and Miss Tittell and Mr. R. E. French, share the honors alike. Both have done themselves credit, and in fact, the entire cast is excellently balanced. The costumes are rich, the stage effects perfect, and taken altogether the performance is worthy of the patronage it has drawn, and there is no reason why crowded houses should not prevail for the rest of the week.

The musee department has an overflow of extra fine attractions. The Mason & Titus Shadowgraph Company is very pleasing and very funny, and will prove a big card for the little folks at the Saturday matinee. "Ingomar" again to-night.

Grand Balloon Ascention.

There will be a grand balloon ascension and parachute jump Sunday afternoon next at 2 P. M. by Professor Redmond, the well known aeronaut. This will be the professor's first ascension of the season, and the people will doubtless appreciate his efforts to please them by liberally patronizing the only transportation line that will reach the grounds direct, the Jefferson street ferry. It may be mentioned here that Professor Redmond depends for any little remuneration that he may get out of the affair entirely from a small percentage he receives from the Jefferson Street Ferry Company.

The professor was seen yesterday, and he states that he confidently expects to make the best ascension and the most daring jump that he has ever before made in this city. He has only recently made some wonderful improvements in his balloon, including all the very latest appliances that aid ascension. He says that he expects a crowd of at least 50,000 people to be in attendance at the grounds Sunday, and he advises everybody to take the Jefferson street ferry.

CONDITION OF THE E. N. COOKE.

The Steamer Has Not Been Raised Yet—Extent of Damages.

The steamer E. N. Cooke is not yet raised, and contrary to expectations, still rests on the bottom of the river. The Willamette Chief, that has been at the scene of the accident nearly all the time, came down the river yesterday afternoon, and later in the day left up again with a large barge in tow, which makes the third or fourth now on the ground. The steamer has been righted and her starboard guard is found to be badly damaged nearly the entire length of the boat, so much so that a new one will probably have to be built. It is said that the steamer will sustain about as much damage by being strained through the raising process as she did in the collision, but hopes are entertained that the boat will be on top by to-night anyway. In a conversation with the gentleman who is superintending the job, he said:

"As soon as the steamer is raised sufficiently to clear the decks of water the hole will be closed, the water pumped out of the hull and she will steam back to Portland, not a total wreck by any means. If the proper appliances could have been secured within two or three hours after the steamer struck no sinking would have resulted, but when help did come it was too late."

The Behring Sea Negotiations.

OTTAWA, March 13—[Special Telegram]—It is stated on reliable authority that official correspondence between Great Britain and the United States shows that the question of a closed sea has not and will not enter into any negotiations now going on at Washington on the Behring sea difficulty. From information received from the British minister and Mr. Tupper, the question of adjudicating upon claims for damages of owners of British sealers seized in Behring sea by United States cruisers has, up to the present time, mainly occupied the attention of the conference. The question of protecting by some international arrangement the seal fisheries from absolute depletion, irrespective of any claims of the United States to the exclusive jurisdiction of those waters has been only informally considered. The highest approval of such an arrangement has been received from the British government, which has strongly indorsed the suggestion of the United States that such protection is imperative to prevent total destruction of the seal fisheries, in carrying out which the British government has agreed to co-operate.

The Cattle Convention.

FORT WORTH, March 13.—At to-day's session of the Interstate cattlemen's convention, the committee on statistics reported on the matters of establishing bureaus for information and statistics in each of the live stock producing and live stock feeding states and territories to the effect that it was very essential to have a correct record of the available supply and probable demand of live stock in order to form an intelligent opinion as to the value of the same. The committee were doubtful if united action could be had, and it was therefore recommended that the convention memorialize congress to appropriate sufficient money to introduce this improvement in conducting the live stock business of the country under the auspices of the department of agriculture; adopted. A report was adopted asking the next legislature to appoint a veterinary surgeon, whose duty it will be to suppress all diseases in cattle, especially that known as Texas fever. A long discussion evoked on the report recommending that the department of agriculture relocate the fence line, but the report was finally adopted.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, March 13.—To supplement the news of the absorption of the Chicago, Burlington & Northern by the Burlington, this morning the Bank of England further reduced its minimum rate of discount from 4½ to 4 per cent. The effect upon the opening here was to create the utmost excitement, and the list showed gains of from ⅛ to ¾ per cent. Burlington was up 1⅛ and Rock Island 1 per cent. Realizations being upon such a liberal scale gave the bears encouragement to attack the list in several spots during the afternoon. The weak spot in the list was Louisville, New Albany and Chicago caused by selling which it is believed was for the account of the defeated party in the election. The close was active and heavy to weak, generally at or near the lowest prices of the day. There were a few final fractional advances, but the great majority of the list are lower to-night, and Louisville, New Albany and Chicago lost 6¼.

Freights and Charters—There has been a moderate inquiry for grain tonnage the past week and freights have been steadily held. The week's charters were as follows: Br ship Herat, iron, 1100 tons, for U. K., Havre or Antwerp, chartered prior to arrival at 37s 6d. Br bk Frances Fisher, iron, 1430 tons, for U. K., Havre or Antwerp, chartered spot at 37s 6d. Br ship Montgomeryshire, iron, 1401 tons, for U. K., Havre or Antwerp, re-chartered spot at 36s 9d. Ship Jabez Howes, 1381 tons, for Liverpool direct, terms private. Am ship Kenilworth, iron, 2243 tons, for Cork, U. K., Havre or Antwerp, chartered spot at 35s 9d. Br ship Cumberland, iron, 1793 tons, for U. K., Havre or Antwerp, chartered spot at 36s 9d; ship T. F. Oakes, 1897 tons, wheat, from Tacoma to Cork, U. K. The demand for lumber vessels continues active and freights firm, but tonnage suitable for this trade is scarce. Charters the past week were as follows: Bk Gerard C. Tobey, spars to New York; ship Levi G. Burgess, Puget sound to Melbourne; bk Kitkitat, Puget sound to Honolulu; bk Hesper, Puget sound to Melbourne.

Coal freights—Steady. The ship Louis Walsh, loads at Tacoma for this port.

Wheat—There is little new to report in this cereal, the market moving along quietly with little encouragement to holders, who have found the market steadily against them. Holders in the country have offered quite freely and met buyers with a the range of $1 23¾@1 27½ per cental for standard shipping. Futures: Speculation in wheat futures is very dull; transactions being mostly of 100 ton lots. Values soft, although the next decline during the week was less than 1 cent. To-day's forenoon sales were: Buyer year, 100 tons at $1 36¼, 100 tons at $1 36⅜, 200 tons at $1 36¼, 100 tons at $1 36⅜; buyer season, $1 30.

Afternoon session: Buyer year, $1 37; buyer season, $1 30.

Barley—Although the market is very quiet yet prices are well maintained; choice feed being steady at 77½@80c, and No. 1 feed at 76¼@77½c. Holders offer liberally, but buyers find difficulty in forcing concessions. Brewing descriptions are very firmly held, the range being from 85 to 100c per cental.

Options have steadily improved during the week to a fair speculative movement. Buyer year, advancing from 80 to 80⅝c. Buyer, the season was relatively stronger, selling up from 76⅝ to 81c.

Afternoon session: Buyer year, 80¾c; buyer season, 81⅝c.

Oats—Weak at the decline. Receipts are heavier than anticipated, and the efforts of some dealers to press sales depressed the market. Choice feed, nominal, $1 27½@1 30. No. 1 feed, $1 25. Common, $1 10@1 20. Milling $1 30@1 32½. At the close the market firmed up under smaller offerings.

Hops—Steadily held for prices which buyers are not prepared to meet, hence a dull and uninteresting market. Quotations, nominal, 9@12½c per lb.

Potatoes—Owing to light receipts the spud market has gradually stiffened and choice coast varieties are very strong. Burbanks fetch $2 50@2 75 per 100 lbs, with indications of a further advance.

Mill stuffs—Bran held fairly steady until the close, when prices weakened off 50c per ton. Quote $12@14 per ton.

Middlings—Dull and easy at $16@19.

Wool—Very little business passing and stocks afford but little scope for operations.

Butter—Weak owing to heavy stocks.

Eggs—Supplies large. Market very soft. 14@17½c.

OREGONIANA

It is stated that there are fifty men in Cornelius, Forest Grove and Hillsboro ready to start for the Nehalem valley as soon as the roads and trails are declared open The public domain is fast filling up with industrious settlers and before many years there will not be an acre open for settlement

There is a large demand for fruit trees this spring from nearly all parts of the Willamette valley A great many farmers are setting out good sized orchards and in a few years the valley will yield twice the amount of fruit it does at present. There will always be a market for all the good fruit that can be raised, and those who have good orchards can always realize handsome profits from them

There having been complaint that the assessor of Wasco county did his work after a partial manner the Times Mountaineer comes to his rescue and says "By comparing the amount of property valuation and the assessable mortgages, it will be found that the wealthy men of our county are paying their full share of taxes, while the farmers who suffered from the drouth last season are paying less than for several years past. Mr Gourlay has been honest and conscientious in the performance of his official duties

Three remonstrances have been presented to the county court against the proposed new bridge across the Walla Walla at Milton They were circulated at Athena, Milton and Pendleton and in the neighborhood of 250 names are attached The petitioners urge that the money to be appropriated could be put to much better use in paying the county indebtedness than for building a bridge at the place designated which they say is unnecessary Just what effect the remonstrances will have on the bridge proposition is not yet apparent

On Wednesday there walked into Salem from the north a woman tramp Her destitute and lonely condition was a sad sight and one not often witnessed in this land of plenty and chivalry Her feet were wrapped in several folds of old sacks and cloths and her general appearance was that of the tramp In her hands she carried her shoes and an ax The latter she said she used in defending herself and chopping kindling for the fires she was in the habit of building along the road She claimed to have made the long companionless journey from Arkansas, and was en route for Southern Oregon She bought a ticket and departed for Eugene

WASHINGTONIANA

The towns on Bellingham bay are prospecting the advisability of uniting under one charter The hitch will be over the name Each town wants its name used and the older town wants the others to join under its charter

In Walla Walla county so far no injury has been done to grain, though considerable injury has been inflicted on the fruit and very great injury on range cattle and horses There has also been more than the average loss of sheep

A few days ago a young boy who was sent to Sehome from a camp of surveyors with letters for the postoffice and a time check on a firm was stopped and unloaded by three footpads The firm has been warned and the men will be unable to collect the money

The Douglas county Board of Trade have taken in hand the matter of securing seed grain to replace that which has necessarily been fed out in consequence of the unusually hard winter Arrangements have been made whereby $2500 worth of seed grain will be delivered in Waterville in time for spring seeding and farmers will be enabled to get seed at reasonable prices on secured notes payable after harvest.

Wm Howinstein the person who killed the colored waiter Oglesby on 23d of January, remains in a semi comatose state at Colville says the Stevens County Miner Since his arrest and incarceration, he has seemed as one dazed Even his best friends cannot get more than a sentence or two from him His companions in jail say that he will stare for an hour at one object When spoken to he often waits for a minute before answering and then not satisfactorily

There is some disagreement among orchardists as to the effect of the winter on fruit, says the Walla Walla Union W S Offner has many acres of all kinds which are in good order except peaches which he thinks are destroyed while Uncle Mike Ward thinks the peaches will come out in pretty fair shape He says he has examined enough to satisfy him that there will be a partial crop that there is at least one good bud to twenty bad ones He says that the trees are not killed but that part of the buds were destroyed Others nearer the mountains express the opinion that there will be a good crop of peaches Every horticulturist declares that all other fruit trees are in excellent condition and predict big yields of all kinds unless there is severe freezing weather later in the season

NEVER HAD BETTER PROSPECTS

Mr J G O Mayer who came to Portland from California about ten days ago with a large party whom he intends to locate in Oregon and who left with Mr J C. Boyd the Oregon Immigration Board's solicitor, for points up the valley writes Mr Boyd the following letter from Eugene, which explains itself

Accept many thanks for your advice in coming to Eugene I have found all you described and more too and I don't know what to take hold of first I have seen a fruit place adjoining the town that pleases me and although it costs money I think it is a big thing and will try and get a party for it I don't believe I ever saw a better prospect for fruit. Will first go this forenoon to the western part of the county and locate my party and will then return and see what I can do with the place spoken of

THERE SHOULD BE AN EXAMPLE.—Speaking of the suit of Wm. Dunbar against his late cashier Roberts, a merchant said yesterday: "It is a duty Mr. Dunbar owes the community to prosecute this man and secure his conviction, if guilty. I understand that Mr. Dunbar was offered $1000 to dismiss the case against Roberts when he was in jail at Jacksonville. It is reported that Mr. Roberts has been in trouble of a similar nature before, and that he was let off. If he had been properly dealt with on that occasion, Mr. Dunbar would not have had this unpleasant experience with him. A similar case occurred on Front street lately, but it was hushed up probably by some one compounding a felony, and the "erring one" is now in the employ of another Front street dealer. Whether he is aware of the young man's antecedents or not I am not aware. It is all very well to try and save young men from ruin, but they should not be given a chance to ruin others."

DAILY STEAMERS FOR THE COWLITZ.—A daily line of steamers to navigate the Cowlitz river has been established by the Joseph Kellogg company, and boats are to begin running regular Monday morning. One of the company's steamers, the Toledo, is now lying at her dock near the foot of Taylor street, undergoing some necessary repairs to her guards, but the boat will be ready to start on schedule time Monday. About the only drawback to navigation on this river at present, in the way of the channel being filled in, is at the Toutle river bar, where at some stages of the river not over ten inches of water can be found. This difficulty is soon to be overcome, however, for on her last trip the steamer Northwest carried a force of men and 100 pounds of powder with which to remove all obstructions, and the river will be navigated as far up as Toledo.

THE PURITAN LOSES A FAN.—F. M. Warren's steam tug Puritan is at the lower end of Montgomery wharf receiving some repairs to her motor and steering gear. A chain has been put under the stern of the tug, and jacked up revealing a very dilapitated looking rudder, and a broken fan of the propeller. The Puritan was endeavoring a few days ago, to tow a raft of logs through the chute, at the lower end of Swan island. The captain had misjudged the depth of the water and his boat soon grounded. Endeavoring to back out of the difficulty the tug's rudder came up abruptly against a sand bar, bending the iron plate around until it came in contact with the rapidly revolving propeller, and as a consequence one of the cast fans was broke off by the blow. The boat was soon taken up to Portland, and the repairs will amount to but little.

THE WORK MATERIALIZING.—"Work on the new Union Pacific's Sound division steamer, that is being built at Steffen's yard has been commenced," said a prominent river division official of the company yesterday. "The late flood has delayed the work at least a month, by carrying away nearly all the logs at the mills, and causing a scarcity of lumber. Nearly all the ribs of the hull of the steamer were up before the river jumped its boundaries, and when at its height the water covered a portion of the works, which of course made it necessary that most of the work should again be gone over. The hull is now assuming shape, and when finished will be one of the finest steamers of her kind that ever graced the waters of Puget sound or any place else on the coast."

TWO NEW ANTIPYRETICS.—Under the head of "New Antipyretics," a Professor Michaelis is allowed space in the current number of the New York Druggists' Circular and Chemists' Gazette to announce the great discovery, if in nothing else than names of two new compounds, the first of these he christens ocetylethylphenydrazin, which he assures the puzzled and perspiring student of chemistry is easily soluble in hot water. The second, and possibly still greater discovery, he calls ethylenophanylhydrazinsuccinic, for short. The wise professor very modestly describes the virtues of his great discoveries, and if he probably never gains fame for anything else, all students will bear him in mind as the acknowledged champion for long-winded and original christenings.

THEY WERE LOOKING FOR IDEAS.—Police Commissioners Frank and Simon and Chief of Police Parrish yesterday took a stroll through the county jail to see how the prisoners are kept in the new iron cages. They were shown through the different apartments by Jailer James, who took pains to explain every feature to their entire satisfaction. They were much pleased with the system, as it insured perfect security to prisoners, and the modus operandi of opening and closing cell doors they thought could not be very much improved upon. The object of their visit was ideas. In the event of the erection of a new city hall, they will want a jail with cells arranged on a slightly more modern plan than those in the fly trap on Second and Oak streets.

DIED AFTER A SHORT ILLNESS.—Mr. Fred. R. Lounsdale, son of J. P. O. Lounsdale, died at the residence of his parents, No. 43 South Third street, Wednesday night, after a brief illness, from congestion of the brain, aged 29 years. He has been in delicate health for nearly a year but was able to be about and attend to business till last Friday, when he came home very sick. On Monday he became paralyzed and all the skill of the best physicians was unavailing, and about midnight Wednesday he peacefully passed away. He was well and favorably known in this vicinity and a host of friends will learn with regret of his untimely death. The funeral will take place from the family residence at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

NEW MACHINERY FOR THE WRIGHT.—Lying at Montgomery dock is the steam launch F. P. Wright, ready for a trial trip. The boat is an old one, but has just received an entirely new outfit of machinery. Her old engine was taken out and a larger one substituted, and a new boiler has also been put in. With the greater power a larger shaft and wheel have been necessary and were added. Nearly all winter the Wright was moored with the Puritan at the public levee, above Jefferson street, where are now the steamers Wasco and City of Salem. Just what the boat is intended for is not known at present, but it is thought she will do a general towing business.

WATER FOR THE CITY PARK.—The season is rapidly approaching when there will again arise need of a water supply in the city park. As the water committee will have a plentiful supply of water when the new main and pump at Palatine Hill are completed, an effort has been made to induce them to extend the city mains into the park, and they will probably consent. The only thing that prevents is a lack of funds for procuring and laying pipe, but they will probably find some way of overcoming this difficulty. If the mains are extended to the park the city will put in an engine and pump there, and then the place can be kept in decent condition.

ENJOYABLE WEATHER.—Regulation Oregon weather is to the front at last, and is enjoyed all the more from comparison with the miserable Eastern style of the article we have been enduring since New Year's. In the gardens, hyacinths, daffodils and other early flowers are pushing up under the effects of the genial warmth. The elm trees are putting forth their tiny, insignificant, colorless flowers, and if the weather does not lose its grip, peach blossoms will soon be extending their beautiful petals. Business is beginning to be rushing with nursery men, and soon the spade and garden rake will be taken from the wall and broughts into active use.

LET IT BE PROMPTLY STOPPED.—Complaint is made that scavengers are dumping their loads of garbage along the county road leading out to the crematory. They do this to avoid the necessity of going out to the crematory, and the smell out there is becoming a nuisance to travelers. This matter of dumping garbage in improper places is an old story, but it was thought nothing more would be heard of it after the city provided a crematory for the garbage. The authorities should promptly arrest and punish all scavengers who dump filth along the road to the crematory. It is time that this nuisance was put a stop to.

TWO HAVE ALREADY ARRIVED.—Three of the open cars for the electric motor line on Washington and B streets have arrived, and were being unloaded from the cars at the terminal grounds yesterday. Each car has nine seats and will carry sixty people, and more when occasion demands. They are finished in the natural wood of light color, and are very handsome. They will probably be running in a few days, as everything is in readiness, and the company has only been waiting their arrival. Several more are due, and others are on the way, and the company intend to have the line well stocked.

PLEASANT WEATHER EVERYWHERE.—For the past two days one could not wish for better weather. The sky has been clear and the sunshine warm, and calculated to cause an epidemic of spring fever. By the following report it can be seen that people living east of the mountains have nothing of which to complain: Bonneville 40, Hood River 40, The Dalles 44, Arlington 42, Umatilla 45, Wallula 43, Walla Walla 40, Dayton 40, Pomeroy 34, Riparia 38, Colfax 35, Kamela 42, Union 45, Baker City 50, Huntington 45, North Powder 40.

NEW ROAD NECESSARY.—The county commissioners yesterday took a drive out the White house road to ascertain the extent of the damage near the Sellwood ferry landing in consequence of the recent floods. Commissioner Dunne said that the road was in very bad shape, as nearly ten acres of land is washed away. It will be necessary to provide a temporary roadway further up the hill, until permanent repairs can be made. Stone walls or piles will be required to insure perfect safety to the road from floods in the future.

THE "BOLD BIRD," ETC.—A fine specimen of the great American bald eagle, captured at Hood river by Mr. T. F. Hope, of the Cascade Locks, has been presented by him to the city park. It will be quite an attraction, but if skinned and stuffed at once would probably "live" longer than it otherwise is likely to.

"HORSES MUST GO."—Horse cars will soon be a thing of the past in Portland. The Third street system is to be electrified, and the Morrison Street Bridge Company have decided to change their lines to electric roads. The line along Fifth street in East Portland will probably be changed this summer.

THOROUGHLY RENOVATED.—The Union Pacific ticket office, corner of First and Stark streets, has been thoroughly renovated, and is as bright and clean as paint and polishing can make it. A number of handsome oil paintings ornament the walls, but the most striking ornament is a fine buffalo head handsomely mounted. This relic of a race of animals that once roamed the plains by thousands, but is now practically extinct, will be viewed with interest by the many who have never seen a living buffalo.

PREMIER COUNCIL NO. 5.—The above council of Order of Chosen Friends was formally instituted at A. O. H. hall last evening by P. L. Councillor C. H. Randall, and the following officers were duly elected and installed: G. S. H. Jackson, P. C.; Dr. D. Walker, C.; Robert L. Ball, V. C.; Thos. Steele, secretary; F. N. Shuck, treasurer; J. W. Chard, prelate; Charles Monnel, marshal; Dr. Rand, warden; Walter Joy, guard. Trustees, Dr. D. Walker, R. L. Ball and G. S. H. Jackson.

EIGHT NEW STANDS.—Eight new stands for the operating room of the Postal Telegraph Company arrived from San Francisco yesterday. Each stand is a combination telegraph case, typewriter and writing desk. The operating room and battery are to be thrown into one by the removal of a partition, and the new stands will be put in position immediately and the force of operators is to be increased to keep pace with the increase of business.

BETTER BEEF IN MARKET.—Since the disappearance of cold weather, storms and blockades, there is a very marked improvement in the quality of the beef displayed in our markets. If the present standard of the supply is kept up there will be no need of going abroad to look for supplies. Oregon can produce as good beef as any state in the Union and the farmers should see that there is no lack of the best.

DECLINES THE HONOR.—Mr. J. Gaston, who was elected president of the union party club at Nonpareil hall on Wednesday evening, states that this honor was conferred upon him without his knowledge or consent, and that he declines to serve. Mr. Gaston states that he has not attended the meetings of the union party, and is not familiar with the plans of the new movement.

LIKES THE BIG HOTEL.—Mr. William H. Lee, manager of "The Tacoma," is in the city. He called on Manager Charles E. Leland of The Portland yesterday and expressed himself as much pleased with Portland's big hotel. Mr. Lee is investigating the markets here and will visit San Francisco for the same purpose before returning home.

DR. HOUGHTON'S LECTURE.—At Grace church this evening Dr. Ross C. Houghton will give the second lecture on the "Historical Writers of America." A short musical programme will be given before the lecture. Exercises begin at 7:30. Subject of lecture: "Jared Sparks, and the True Washington." Admission free; all are welcome.

OFFICES OPENED.—The following offices have been recently opened by the Postal Telegraph Company in California: Selma, Traver, Visalia, Delano, Bakersfield, Tehachapi, Mojave, Newhall, San Fernando, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Lamanda Park, Santa Anita, Aradia, Monrovia, Azusa, Pomona, Ontario, San Bernardino, Riverside.

THE OREGON CITY LOCKS.—The gates are all hung in the locks at Oregon City, and it was expected that they would be in condition to pass boats through to-day. A break in the cofferdam, caused by the late rise in the river, had the effect of delaying work, and it may take a day or two to get the locks in working order.

THE PORTLAND HOTEL PHARMACY, owned by Mr. Frank Nau, formerly prescription clerk with Woodard, Clarke & Co., will open to the public to-day. The ability of the proprietor and the neatness and novelty in which this store is fitted will undoubtedly insure its success.

THE BARK KITTY DUE.—The bark Kitty is due here now from Hong Kong, being forty-nine days out. She encountered a severe storm a few days after sailing, and if this has not delayed her in the China seas she ought to arrive here any day now.

Cloak Department.

OUR IMPORTATIONS OF

Spring and Summer Jackets, Long Wraps, Redingots, Mantelets, Capes and Children's Garments.

We will describe a few of our extreme novelties to convey an idea of what will be worn the coming season.

The Empire Jackets and Shoulder Capes will have the prestige for dress garments. In long wraps the Redingots and Conamara will be the leaders.

An elegant garment is the DORCHESTER, in color Goma, a new shade between a grey and blue, trimmed in Black Vandyke Pasmentrie. Also the NERUDA REDINGOT, Empire style, vest front of embossed cloth, pleated sleeve, the shade a new beige called COLOMBE. Another in the Normandy Conamara, embroidered yoke of dark Fawn and revere tabs and ribbons to finish this NOUVEAUTE. The RUDDYGORE, a decidedly Scotch Cloak, in Plaid Chinchilla, also in stripes and invisible checks, is shown this season.

Traveling Ulsters in Black Surah, Light Gray and Beige Alpaca and Sicilian are the favorites.

The ORTUDA, a garment in Myrtle Cloth, with Reveres of light fawn, is a beauty.

The CARDOVILLE, an elegant affair in empire style, color navy blue, with Mesange Vest.

Another is the Alcott, a black diagonal with surah silk sleeves and trimmings.

The Ulldin, with black velvet sleeves.

The Allendorf, this design baffles description, the combination being an entirely novel and a masterpiece of French art, consisting of a bodice of cloth vest and frill of silk finishing the front to hide the fastenings of this jacket.

A Few Words About Our Mantelets and Short Capes.

The Ophelia, Norwood, Celestine, Mercedita & Minerva Mantelets

Are combined principally of Silk, Fringes, Cassacting of Fluted Lace and Black Surah Ribbon Bows, the prevailing styles being very narrow back, short shoulders and medium length tab fronts. Our Capes must be seen to be appreciated.

The ZORA is an accordion pleated lace cape. THE VERONA is silk, lace and Varmecella fringe. The EIFFEL CAPES come in all point lace. THE PETIT is a point applique and fringe, forming a very pretty cape.

We are also displaying a fine assortment of Misses' and Children's Long Cloaks and Jackets and various designs and colors.

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, MARCH 14.

A BENCH SHOW.

THE OREGONIAN has already printed a very curious passage from the opinion of Judge Thayer of the supreme court in the Cody mayhem case. The passage is so curious and peculiar that THE OREGONIAN feels justified in printing it again, viz:

> It was a contest for mastery, in which each of the combatants relied upon his own courage, skill and prowess. It was not conducted in accordance with the conventional rules recognized by the popular pugilists of the day, but in a primitive style, a manner in which western people vulgarly term a "ground squabble," wherein the parties do not stand upon any nice points of honor as to the mode of hurting each other. Such occurrences are not respectable, but are disgraceful and demoralizing. Yet it is better that they be indulged in occasionally than that men lose their grit and become dudes and poltroons.

It is safe to say that the reports of every state might be searched in vain for anything to match this remarkable deliverance. The chief justice seems to suppose that because prize fighting is tolerated in certain communities, therefore the supreme court of Oregon ought to excuse the brutality of a rough and tumble fight in which men bit each other's lips and bite off each other's noses, and he says: "It is better that such fights be indulged in occasionally than that men lose their grit and become dudes and poltroons."

Chief Justice Thayer must pardon the remark that this utterance seems to be a little extra-judicial or out of place in a deliverance from the bench. We do not think any high tribunal ever before presented such an argument in behalf of that quality of "courage, skill and prowess" which chews ears off and gouges eyes out. The chief justice may think this better than fighting according to the rules of the prize ring. That opinion would depend a good deal on a man's instincts, but was the chief justice called on to make the comparison between two species of brutality and to justify the one by the other? The newspapers, of which the chief justice speaks very contemptuously when he finds opportunity, or can make one, never get down to this low plane of morality.

At a banquet recently given at Portland the chief justice, responding to the toast drunk to "The Judiciary," said: "We are often subjected to criticism—yes, at times, to humiliating criticism—but so long as the bar don't criticise us we don't care. We don't care for the newspapers, for we believe just as little and just as much of what they say as we like."

No doubt the chief justice has great resources in indurated sensibility. But still we suspect he does care, for when the galled jade winces it is a sign that his withers are wrung. To the newspapers it makes very little difference whether the chief justice believes anything they say or not. Their appeal is not to him, but to public intelligence. Nor are they responsible for his ignorance of the fact that the opinion of the bar of the state concerning him is very similar to their own.

When the man would befit obscurity and obscurity would befit the man, then the man and obscurity would seem to have been made for each other and the marriage ought to take place.

THIEVES AND THEIR DEFENDERS.

Astoria newspapers should find better business than that of encouraging those persons who entice seamen away from ships, and rob the vessels and seamen too. The Portland board of trade has spoken and very properly against this abuse. The action thus taken moves the Astoria Pioneer to say:

> The Portland board of trade becomes very indignant at Astoria and the newspapers, and especially those who run sailor boarding houses, all because the shipping of sailors will in future be done at Astoria. The Portland board of trade will have to content themselves with calling names, as there is no help for them. The shipping business is lost to that city.

When the shipping business shall be lost to Portland it will also be lost to Astoria. There is, however, no complaint at Portland that seamen are shipped at Astoria. The complaint is that a gang of crimps at Astoria induce seamen to desert, take them away from service for which they are engaged, make the ship pay enormously for the return of the men or for obtainment of others, and then rob the seamen of the money which the ship has been forced to pay. Why shouldn't the Portland board of trade, and every body of honest men in the world, protest against this infamous business? If a vessel takes a crew or a portion of a crew at Portland, this gang of thieves at Astoria, supported by the press of the town that appears to be bribed by the thieves, steal the men, extort large sums of money from the ship for their return, and then rob the men of the greater portion of the money thus extorted from the ship. If Astoria would furnish crews, without robbing vessels, there would be no complaint from Portland.

It is not probable that in any other place in the world is there so vile a lot of crimps and pirates as at Astoria, and it is certain that at no other place in the world is there a press so shameless and infamous in upholding and defending robbery as the Astoria press is. The state must crush this nest of pirates in one way or another, and if it cannot be done under present legislation then we will have legislation under which it can be done.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

The trial of Isaac Sawtelle for the murder of his brother Hiram began at Rochester, N. H., on Wednesday last. This promises to be a very interesting case. The defense are making a fight on the question of identification and the place where the murder was committed. There is no moral doubt that Hiram Sawtelle was murdered, for his naked headless body was found buried in the woods. He had been shot through the heart and the corpse was identified by the stockings which the murderer in his haste had forgotten to remove from the feet. The head has not been found, but the circumstantial evidence is strong that it was burned in a deserted cabin in the vicinity of the grave, as the ashes in the stove contained a quantity of partially calcined bones. The question of the identity of the headless trunk with the missing Hiram Sawtelle will doubtless be established, but without a confession on the part of the accused it will be difficult to prove legally that his brother killed him, for the evidence of his brother's identity with that of the man who was last seen with Hiram Sawtelle is conflicting. Some witnesses think that there were two persons in the carriage, while others think there were three. There is no moral doubt that Isaac Sawtelle was at least privy to his brother's murder and procured it, if he did not actually perform it.

Another interesting question grows out of the fact that the murder took place so near the boundary between Maine and New Hampshire that it will be difficult to prove in which the crime was committed. The present trial is in New Hampshire, and Sawtelle's counsel will be sure to object in his behalf that the killing was not clearly shown to have been done in that state. If it should be proved that the victim was murdered in Maine he would have to be tried in Maine, where there is no capital punishment, and so if convicted this miscreant would escape the gallows. The suggestion has been made that probably the murderer deliberately committed the murder in Maine, because there that crime is not punished by death, as it is in New Hampshire. A prisoner convicted of murder in the first degree in Massachusetts twenty years ago confessed that he first tried to commit the crime in Rhode Island, because there was no capital punishment in that state, and, failing in this attempt, went to Massachusetts because he thought the law required that at least one year should elapse between conviction and execution. This man desired to secure himself in his first choice against being hanged, if convicted, and in his second choice wished, if sentenced to death, to put off the execution as long as possible. The New York Sun cites this case as throwing some light on the comparative efficacy of capital punishment and imprisonment as penalties for murder, and thinks the Sawtelle case worthy of attention as likely to furnish a similar lesson.

THE SENATE SILVER BILL.

The senate silver bill does not bear the test of publicity and analysis. As its provisions are more clearly understood the objections to it stand out in stronger light. In no respect is it preferable to Windom's bill. In many particulars it is distinctly inferior. Representative Walker of Massachusetts in an analytic comparison of the provisions of the two bills prepared for the coinage committee, of which he is a member, points out the mischief that may be done by the compulsory purchase of $4,500,000 worth of silver bullion per month. Estimating the total annual product of silver in the United States, including Mexican ores reduced in this country, and subtracting the quantity used in the arts, at 45,000,000 ounces, he says:

> At the price of one dollar per fine ounce the quantity received, and on which notes would be issued (under the Windom bill) would be $45,000,000. The government is the passive agent for the receipt of such American silver as is offered, and is not compelled to go abroad and join with foreign speculators in creating a fictitious price for silver.
> The senate bill directs the purchase of $4,500,000 worth of silver in each month, regardless of where it was produced. . . . To buy $54,000,000 worth annually at the price of $1 per ounce would require the purchase annually of about 9,000,000 ounces of foreign silver, or nearly 1,000,000 ounces in each month. The requirement would make the government the largest operator in creating a fictitious value of silver, and would place the department wholly at the mercy of the speculators even with a moderate capital.

That is to say, the senate bill makes it absolutely obligatory upon the government to buy $54,000,000 worth of silver per year. The mines of this country can only sell it $45,000,000. For the remainder it must go abroad and pay whatever price foreign holders of silver choose to demand. There is no escape from this necessity, if the bill becomes a law. It will make the purchase of the amount named in it compulsory. It gives the secretary of the treasury no discretion in the matter, no power to suspend purchases to escape a combination to put up the price. It ought to be entitled a bill to create a corner in silver. This is just what it would do. The silver miners, knowing that the government was compelled to buy all their output at whatever price, would at once put up their prices until enough silver had been attracted from abroad to fill the annual quota. Then the price might fall, unless the combination to sell silver to the government were so extended as to include foreign owners. This is not at all impracticable. The organization of a silver ring large enough to control the marketable bullion supply of Europe as well as America would be a great deal easier than the formation of the copper trust. That was not aided by a law compelling a rich government to buy $54,000,000 worth of copper per year at whatever price the trust chose to ask.

THE TARIFF BILL.

The new tariff bill is nearly finished. So far as it is possible to judge from the fragments of information given to the public it has been cast in about the form foreshadowed by Major McKinley last fall. That is, it will aim to make a reduction of $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 in the revenue. This will be accomplished by reducing the internal revenue tax on tobacco some $12,000,000, by reducing the sugar tariff 75 to 100 per cent (if the Kansas and California members will graciously consent), by reducing the tariff on steel rails from $17 to $13, and by making some additions to the free list. The taxes reduced, it will be seen, are almost purely revenue taxes and the reductions will not greatly affect importations. We don't produce sugar enough to count and we can make steel rails cheaper than England. The bill will increase the tariff in several places. The duty on tin plate is to be doubled in the hope of building up a home industry. This will increase the revenue temporarily pending the growth of the domestic manufacture. We import some $16,000,000 worth of tin plate a year, paying on it a duty of some $5,000,000. This is the feature of the bill most open to attack, unless it shall undertake to play some pranks with window glass or earthenware not yet exposed. The entire wool schedule is made public and will be very satisfactory to the wool growers. It is the schedule of the senate bill of last winter, which added 1, 2 and 3 cents to the existing law for unwashed, washed and scoured wool respectively, except as to carpet wools. The duty on these, which is 2½ and 5 cents for unwashed, under the present law, and which was not changed by the senate bill, is made 3½ and 8 cents by the McKinley bill. This is done to satisfy woolgrowers who complain that so-called carpet wools are imported and used for the inferior grades of clothing. Our importations of these wools amount to 80,000,000 pounds a year, on which a duty of about $2,500,000 has been paid. If importations are checked by the increased duty as the woolgrowers expect, this change will work a reduction in the revenue. It is thought the entire bill will be ready to report in about two weeks.

AN AGENCY OF REVOLUTION.

The opinion is gaining ground that young Emperor William of Germany has in his mistaken zeal to conciliate the socialistic element in his empire given the enemies of the government a formidable weapon with which to strike it. It is a fact well understood that when a person in authority stops to parley with discontent and attempts to soothe its clamor by concession he shows signs of weakness that are speedily turned to his disadvantage. This is true through all grades of authority, from that of the country schoolmaster who finds himself locked out on the morning of the day succeeding that in which he granted the insolent demands of an unruly element for the sake of peace, to the emperor who seeks to placate his subjects by acknowledging that they have just cause for grievance and promising to look into the matter and strive to inaugurate changes for their benefit.

A familiar illustration of the futility of concession—not to mention its pernicious tendency—is found in the yielding for a series of years by the congress of the United States to the insolent demands of the slave power. The gentle, earnest plea of Abraham Lincoln, in his first inaugural, to his dissatisfied fellow countrymen, already spoiled by concession, and eager to draw their swords against the government, was not more conciliatory than futile. What did a surging mass of malcontents resolved to accept nothing less than the acquiescence of the government in the secession of the slave states from the Union care for the pleading assertion, "We are not enemies, but friends; we must not be enemies"? When, however, after forbearance had reached its full limit and conciliatory effort had completely exhausted itself, the president bore down upon slavery, and taking the monster by the throat dictated terms to it, fully prepared to enforce them if necessary, and turning invoked upon the act "the considerate judgment of mankind and the gracious favor of Almighty God," the doom of slavery was sealed and the victory of the Union was practically won.

"The emperor," says Jules Simon, who is to represent France in the Berlin labor convention, "will find the socialists so constituted that the more that is conceded the more will be demanded. He will find that having taken the first step on the road of concession it is impossible for him to draw back, and he will have to take other steps and make other concessions, his enemies in the meantime growing stronger and more exacting." An older man, or one better read in the element of human nature that is represented by socialists and clamorous malcontents generally, would not have had to make this experiment to learn this lesson. History would have taught him what he will now learn from experience. The world did not need to be told that his sagacious premier looked with disfavor upon the emperor's rescript, nor was it astonished at the socialistic strength that it developed in the elections.

William of Germany is not accountable for the wrongs that underlie the labor agitation in his empire. They came to him as a part of the heritage of his father—the accumulation of long years of oppression that grew out of the idea that the people belong to the monarch, the idea that substitutes the term subject for citizen and insists upon unquestioning obedience to the decrees of absolutism. He will not the less, however, because of this be held accountable for these wrongs when those who exaggerate and organize opposition to them grow strong enough to strike with a prospect of making their blows felt.

Louis XVI, the most amiable and generous prince who had ruled over France for generations, fell a victim to the malignant spirit that he attempted to soothe by concession, but only succeeded in irritating and making more arrogant through newly developed strength. The story is indeed an old one and forms many chapters in history. From present appearances a sequel to it is in course of preparation that will, before it is concluded, record the desperate throes of dying monarchies and catalogue anew a long list of crimes committed in the name of liberty and right.

Sarah Althea, strange as it may appear, still has friends about the California courts and jury rooms, which she has haunted with disreputable stories of her life and sundry tales of woe for several years past. After an all night session the jury in her contempt of court trial stood eight to four for acquittal, and declaring their inability to agree, were discharged. If there could be any certainty that she would get her to a nunnery or otherwise retire from the public gaze, the court would do the country a service that would be greatly appreciated, if it would order the discharge of the offender and allow her to go free. She would, however, probably bob up serenely in a suit asking exemplary damages for defamation of character in case of lenience in this matter; hence it will probably be the part of prudence to permit the present charge to lie against her.

Our dispatches report that in a recent battle between a body of French troops and the army of the king of Dahomey among the dead were found a number of the Amazons, or the female warriors of that state. These Amazons are about 6,000 strong and are recruited by enrolling all women who are reported as unfaithful wives, or have acrid tempers, or fail to bear children, or cease to be agreeable to their husbands. In the army of the Potomac General W. T. H. Brooks used to express his disgust for a worthless soldier by ordering his colonel to "make a cook of him," but in Dahomey a worthless woman is ordered to become a soldier.

The house passed a substitute for the senate bill to organize the territory of Oklahoma yesterday, which seems to settle the question of opening the Cherokee outlet without the formality of a treaty with the Indians. Though the bill contains a clause enforcing respect for the treaty rights of Indians, the Cherokee strip is declared public land and open to homestead entry. This is, in effect, a refusal to recognize the alleged treaty title of the Cherokees to it. If this bill shall become a law the Indians will wish they had taken the $1.25 per acre offered them for this strip by the commission last summer.

Senator Stanford has built another story on his financial scheme. He proposes that the government shall go into the savings bank business as well as set up a real estate, mortgage and loan office. His plan is that the mortgages given by farmers to the government as security for its loans to them shall be made the basis for an issue of low interest bearing bonds, to be taken in small amounts by people with small savings. He is taking the advice of legal and financial experts into the scheme. He would better take counsel with a medical expert as to his own mental condition.

The Pacific coast has had ever since New Year a monopoly of floods, washouts and weather blockades. The Mississippi valley is now taking its turn. The rain is falling in torrents, levees are breaking and the fertile lowlands bordering upon the mighty stream with their wealth of crops, are in many places many feet under water. The suffering, loss and destruction incident to this flood cannot as yet be computed. It will of course be enormous, as the country that it covers is heavily populated.

It is about time Oregon was getting her potato surplus in the San Francisco market. Extraordinary prices rule there for this article at present, good potatoes selling at $2.50 and $2.75 per cental. Fifty cents and $1 indicate the range of prices for many years past. Consignments from this state to bring these returns must get into market soon, as Californians have a way of rushing soggy, sickly looking tubers into market very early and calling them "new potatoes."

I trust this matter will be taken up by the new Custer Society and an ample fund created for her maintenance in comfort and ease. I will myself give $100 toward a Widow Custer fund."

Emperor William, unlike his ancestors, is passionately fond of horses and an excellent rider. The Hohenzollern family have always been indifferent horsemen. Frederick William III and Frederick William IV knew nothing about riding, and the late Emperor William rode horses which had been carefully trained for him. The present emperor even trains horses himself, and is fond of all athletic sports. His fondness for life on the water dates from his schooldays at Bonn, where he used to do a great deal of rowing.

THOSE WHO MAKE GOOD CITIZENS.

Oakesdale [illegible]: There is plenty in this rapidly growing West for every young man to do who is not afraid to soil his hands. The only people who return to the East dissatisfied with Washington are the dainty, perfumed gentry who become disgusted because they can not rake in a million or so without taking off their kid gloves. It takes mind, muscle and movement to develop the resources of a new country, and men who are built after the above plan make our best citizens and always make money.

WISE IN ACCEPTING.

Eugene Register: Some of the outside cities are making sarcastic comments on the action of the city of Portland in regard to the Hunt railway. Portland is certainly looking out for her own welfare, and her action in this matter was wise. The Hunt road is a good transportation system. Mr. Hunt made a fair proposition to the Portland Board of Trade, and they acted wisely in accepting it.

THE SALEM EDITOR AROUSED.

Statesman: Some one has imposed upon a brainless, mendacious, egotistical jackass who has a half font of type, a pair of shears and a cheese press in the northern end of the county the silly story of how a pauper's body was given to a doctor by the county judge to be horribly dissected, and the jejune simpleton prints the story in his paper as awful facts. He is an object of pity.

SUPREME COURT CANDIDATE NAMED.

Corvallis Times: We are informed that Judge Thayer will not be a candidate for re-election to the office of associate justice of the supreme court, and it would be but a deserved compliment for the democratic convention to tender the nomination to Judge Burnett of this city, as he ran about 1000 votes ahead of his ticket for that office two years ago.

WITH AN EMERGENCY CLAUSE.

Seattle Press: Congressman Wilson should endeavor to have congress provide a special appropriation for the postal service, that will admit of the postmaster-general affording relief when the condition of the service calls for it. In this way only can be kept improvement of the service increase with the ever swelling volume of business.

Missouri Girl Outraged by a Tramp.

PLEASANT HILL, Mo., March 13.—Yesterday afternoon a tramp waylaid Allie Atkins, the 18 year old daughter of a wealthy farmer. The brute ravished, bound and gagged her, cut off her hair and cut her clothes from her body, inflicting several severe wounds. When she recovered consciousness she dragged herself home and told her story. The alarm was at once given and the whole country turned out with dogs and guns to hunt the scoundrel down. A tramp named Collins was arrested at Greenwood this morning. A mob of 1000 surrounded the house in which he was held, threatening to lynch him. Miss Atkins, when confronted with Collins, declared he was not her assailant. Collins was released.

Rich Drunkard Refused Catholic Burial.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 13.—[Special Telegram.]—Late Tuesday afternoon Jose Le Vantes of Old Town, while under the influence of liquor, was thrown from a horse and while insensible on the ground was kicked by the animal on the head. His neck was broken in the fall, though the kick was sufficient to kill him. He was a well known Mexican planter of rich family. This morning the dead man was refused burial in the Catholic cemetery, at which exception was taken by a number of leading churchmen, and it now looks as though Albuquerque would have a repetition of the scenes of the famous Guibord case in Canada a generation ago.

Snow Blockade in Colorado.

DENVER, March 13.—A special from Alamosa, Colo., says: The Rio Grande railway has 250 snow shovelers at work opening the snow blockade across the San Juan range at Cumbres on the east side of the divide. The snow is reported to be sixty feet above the top of the telegraph poles, and for miles on each side of there it is from twenty to forty feet deep. This is the deepest ever known in this locality. The cold is very severe, the mercury going 32 degrees below zero. This is the third time the pass has been snowed up this winter, and it will be days before it is opened.

HIGH DUTY ON CARPET GRADES.

Reduction of Twelve Millions in the Annual Tobacco Revenue.

THE TIN PLATE TARIFF DOUBLED.

Steel Rails Reduced $3 a Ton—Sugar Not Free—Agricultural Products Not Grown in America Exempted.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—[OREGONIAN office, corner Fourteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue.] The house ways and means committee is still working hard trying to get together on the tariff on sugar, and it is now asserted that an agreement will be reached so that the bill may be reported to the house certainly not later than the first day of April. The other schedules of the bill have been practically arranged and agreed upon. There will be a reduction of $12,000,000 in the tobacco tax. The license tax will be abolished and restrictions in the way of a special tax on the sale of leaf tobacco by producers removed.

The duty on steel rails will be reduced from $17 to $13 per ton.

An attempt will be made to give an impetus to the production of tin plate by increasing the duty on that article from 1 to 2 cents per pound, in the hope that it will afford protection enough to put the new industry solidly on its feet.

It has been practically decided not to remove the tax upon alcohol used in the arts as provided for in the senate bill, the reason being that to do so would open the door to frauds.

The wool men have been told that they will get all the protection they ask for. A leading member of the committee says that the bill was being prepared with a view to meeting as far as possible the desires of the agricultural interest, keeping in mind at all times the necessity for reducing taxation as much as possible. To this end the free list will be enlarged by placing upon it all farm products not produced in this country, and in other ways the free list is to be extended so as to bring about the desired reductions in revenue made possible by the decision of the committee not to abolish altogether the tax on tobacco and sugar.

It is now stated emphatically by the men who are engaged in making up this bill, that there will be no provision in it for suspension of the operations of the sinking fund act. The republicans laugh at the figures of ex-Speaker Carlisle and other leading democrats in the house in support of their claim that a deficit is imminent and that there will be no surplus at the end of the year no matter what action is taken in regard to the tariff. It would seem, however, that the ways and means committee have paid much heed to unsatisfactory showing of the finances, and there is no doubt that they appreciate the necessity of not cutting down revenues to a point that would embarrass their party in the house in attempting to enact various measures which they have made a part of their policy.

When the McKinley bill is finally reported to the house it will probably have attached to it a section embodying the main features of the various bills introduced in both houses looking to the suppression of trusts of all kinds. This is the reason probably that numerous bills for the suppression of trusts have been tied up in the committee.

David Harpster, president of the Ohio Wool Growers' Association, and Judge Lawrence, a member of the same association, have prepared for publication the following statement explanatory of the wool schedule in the tariff bill now under consideration by the house committee on ways and means:

> We have examined for the first time to-day the schedule providing duties on wool and manufactures of wool. It proposes a duty of 11 cents per pound on clothing wool, double on washed and treble on scoured; on combing wool 10 cents per pound and treble on scoured wool; on unwashed carpet wools valued at 12 cents or less, including charges at the last port of export, the duty to be 3½ cents, and if washed 7 cents, if scoured 10½ cents; for carpet wools valued at over 12 cents, the duty on unwashed is 8 cents, double if washed and treble if scoured. It provides that standard samples be deposited in custom houses, and contains provisions as to round lot frauds, sorting frauds, admixture frauds, and defines washed and scoured as to so called carpet wools. The proposed provisions are much better than ever incorporated in any tariff law as to these wools that last year are injuring the wool industry of the United States more than any other. We learn upon reliable authority that under the law as it now stands 30 per cent of the carpet wools being imported will make excellent clothing, such as was used by our soldiers during the war, and if shoddy goods continue to increase in fashion as they have during the past two years 75 per cent of the carpet wools imported will be used for clothing, and further if clothing wool can be imported as carpet wool at 2½ cents, the duty of 11 cents on clothing wool will not be operative. If the cost of merino is too far above the cost of carpet wools, manufacturers will abandon the use of merino wool to some extent for cheap carpet wool, thus bringing down the price of merino wool.
>
> The farmers of the United States and the people generally whose prosperity is dependent on the success of our agricultural industries are to be congratulated on the fact that Major McKinley and those co-operating with him on the committee on ways and means have proposed a measure of such immense value. The proposed duty is an increase of 1 per cent per pound on clothing and combing wools over the present law. The senate bill, which passed January 22, 1889, proposed 4 cents on carpet wool whether washed or unwashed, but the rates of the proposed bill of 3½ cents on unwashed, with higher rates on washed and scoured, make it much better for wool growers than the senate bill, besides which the restrictive provisions of Major McKinley's bill in connection with his administrative bill add much to the protective features as to all wools, and in these respects are much better than those found in any previous tariff law. We now respectfully urge the friends of protection of American industry all over the country to appeal to their representatives in congress to give their support to this measure and not to surrender any one of the features of its protective provisions.

Senator Stanford now thinks very seriously of extending his financial scheme so as to make the government a great savings bank as well as lender of money upon real estate security, and he has employed a number of financial experts and eminent lawyers to ascertain whether the plan he has in view to accomplish this is feasible and constitutional. The plan is literally to turn the treasury vaults into a safe depository for small sums of money, making a bank for poor men which shall be absolutely proof against failure. Whether rich men will be allowed to avail themselves of this privilege is not stated. The original plan was to advance money to farmers upon real estate security, and the extension involves the subsequent turning of these mortgages into bonds which shall in turn be disposed of at par in small sums to persons wishing to deposit money with the government. The government will collect 2 per cent interest on mortgages and in turn these mortgage bonds will bear interest at the rate of say 1½ per cent. The bonds will probably run for fixed periods, and bondholders will have no power whatever to press mortgagees whose particular funds may be security for their loans.

Delegate Dubois of Idaho got his bill through the house to-day granting right of way to the Spokane & Palouse railway through the Nez Perces reservation. Objection was made by the democrats to the provision in the bill making the right of way 150 feet wide, and it was changed to 100. The delegate also had passed a bill ratifying the action of the Idaho legislature for a wagon road from the northern to the southern part of Idaho, a distance of 160 miles. This road will open up a prosperous mining region. To-morrow the delegate's bill authorizing the people of [illegible] county to change the county seat will probably be passed.

Representative Henderson of Iowa to-day reported to the house from the committee on military and militia, the bill to improve the efficiency of the militia, which the committee has had under consideration for some time.

Turpie to-day introduced a bill appropriating $500,000 for the establishment and maintenance on the grounds of the United States arsenal at Indianapolis of a factory for making ordnance and ordnance supplies of the army.

General George H. [illegible], of Washington, is in the city in the interest of the militia. He wants the war department to grant two batteries to the state for its use. There is no provision for this purpose and Senator Squire will introduce a bill to accomplish it.

The senate committee on military affairs to-day reported favorably Senator Allen's bill appropriating [illegible] for [illegible] and improving the Fort Walla Walla reservation.

The house committee on Pacific railroads to-day further considered the question as to whether it should report a single bill providing for the settlement of the government indebtedness of the Union and Central Pacifics, as was done by the senate committee, or should report separate bills. There is a marked difference of opinion in the committee on the question, and this morning's discussion did not result in an agreement. The published statement that the secretary of the treasury has invested moneys to the credit of the companies in their first mortgage bonds was also discussed and a resolution ordered to be presented to the house requesting the secretary to inform the house whether such was the case.

Senator Mitchell gave a small dinner party to-night, at which were present Associate Justices Field and Harlan, Senators Hawley, Dawes, Cullom, Pugh, Teller, Manderson, Dixon, Plumb, Hearst, Representatives Kelly, Payson, Hermann and Wilson, Judge Upton and Paul Schulze, of Portland.

Senator Mitchell's bill appropriating $100,000 for a public building at The Dalles and Senator Dolph's bill appropriating the same amount for Salem, Or., passed the senate to-day. Both of these bills may pass the house, as the amount asked is modest compared to many demands.

The advocates of Wyoming and Idaho admission are just now trying to placate Springer, and will probably consent to the postponement of consideration of these bills for two weeks, when the Arizona-New Mexico bills will be reported.

Clarence M. Barton, of Washington, has been appointed a special agent of the treasury department to gather statistics of the commercial interests of that state. The statistics are to be no part of the census compilation.

At to-day's meeting of the Dolph investigating committee George H. Harris of the Washington Star declined to answer when asked how he obtained a report of the proceedings of secret sessions of the senate.

The secretary of the treasury has recommended the passage of Senator Mitchell's bill appropriating $8,000 each for life-saving stations at Port Orford and the mouth of Rogue river.

In addition to taking the census of Alaska Ivan Petroff has been selected by the treasury department to collect commercial statistics for the bureau of statistics.

Blair, of the educational bill, has requested Senator Squire to speak on his bill, a request which the Washington senator has under consideration.

IN THE HOUSE.

Spokane & Palouse Right of Way—Oklahoma Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—In the house the bill was passed granting the right of way through the Nez Perce reservation, Idaho, to the Palouse & Spokane Railroad Company.

The house went into committee of the whole for further consideration of the Oklahoma bill. On motion of [illegible], an amendment was adopted for the establishment of a land office in No Man's Land.

On motion of Holman an amendment was adopted providing that no person having fee simple to 160 acres of land in any state or territory shall be entitled to enter land covered by this act.

The committee rose and reported the bill to the house. The amendment providing that section 2139 of the Revised Statutes, prohibiting the introduction of intoxicating liquor into Indian territory, be enforced in Oklahoma until after the adjournment of the first session of the legislature was agreed to—134 to 104.

The bill was then passed—160 to 25. It is a substitute for the senate bill on the same subject. The bill contains a provision which in substance fixes the boundaries of the new territory to include the Cherokee outlet, with a proviso that no lands which Indians occupy under treaty or law be included without their consent, except for judicial purposes. The bill extends over the new territory the constitution and laws of the United States and the code of Nebraska, without interference with local Indian governments acting under their treaty rights. Seven counties are established. The county seats will be Guthrie, Oklahoma City, Norman, Lisbon, or Kingfisher, Beaver, Stillwater and one more to be fixed by the secretary of the interior. The Cherokee outlet is declared public land and open to settlement under the homestead laws, and bona fide settlers and occupants are given preference. The eight sections after the twenty-fourth are devoted to the establishment of a judicial system in Indian territory, which shall be divided into three districts, and courts shall be held at Muscogee, Vinita, Oaka, Ardmore and Purcell. Adjourned.

IN THE SENATE.

Columbia Bridge—Public Buildings—Debate on the Race Question.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—In the senate the house bill for a bridge across the Columbia river between Washington and Oregon, similar to senate bill passed and sent to the house, was reported back from the committee on commerce, amended by a few verbal changes, and passed.

The committee on commerce reported a bill to repeal the law of congress requiring steamships to carry guns and rockets for casting lines in cases of distress. The object of this was to do away with the extortion practiced by the patentees of these appliances under the law as it now stands. The bill was placed on the calendar.

The senate proceeded to the calendar and passed bills for public buildings as follows:

Salem, Or	$100,000	Stockton, Cal	$80,000
The Dalles, Or	100,000	Virginia City, Nev	100,000
Yellowstone Spg	10,000	Reno, Nev	75,000

All the foregoing were senate bills.

Eustis took the floor and referred to the statements made by Hoar yesterday, one of them being that in the state of Louisiana and some of the other states there were laws which made it a penal offense for a white man to associate on terms of equality with a negro, another to the effect that there was a law which provided for the sale of any colored man found for a certain time out of work, and that former masters should have preference in the purchase. He denied emphatically that there was any such law in Louisiana, and spoke of the recklessness and destitution of a sense of responsibility with which republican senators spoke of Southern affairs.

Hoar said he might have erred as to the state in which such a law was passed, but he quoted substantially from the laws of Mississippi passed in 1865. He thought substantially the same law had been enacted in Louisiana.

The educational bill then came up, and Blair made a brief address. He also read extracts from a speech of President Harrison when a senator in 1886, favoring the bill, and said the president held the same sentiments to-day.

The Southern question came up again and Hoar admitted that his statement about the laws of Louisiana was incorrect.

Sherman asked Eustis whether he did not know the Fifteenth amendment never would have been proposed but for the fact that the laws of the Southern states were depriving the negro of the rights of citizenship.

Eustis replied that it was his honest conviction that all the reconstruction measures were adopted by the republican party with the single object of Africanizing the South and maintaining political supremacy, and characterized it as the greatest crime ever committed against civilized communities.

Sherman then took part in the discussion, which became a heated political controversy. He traced the course of the reconstruction movement and said that at the close of the war it had not been contemplated to arm the negro with the suffrage, but the laws passed by some of the Southern states were so unjust to the colored people and to the white republicans in the South that the people of the North became convinced the object in the South was to overthrow the results of the war and deprive the freedmen of all the rights of citizenship. When the time came it was seen that there was no way to protect the emancipated people except by arming them with the suffrage. Congress had reluctantly, slowly but deliberately adopted that remedy as the only one fitted for the case. He (Sherman) had sometimes thought it might possibly have been better not to have adopted the fifteenth amendment, conferring suffrage on the colored men, because that right had been nullified and uprooted. The result of the fifteenth amendment was practically to give the Southern states increased representation in the house of representatives and increased power in the electoral college. If there was anything wrong in the situation of Southern affairs the people of the South had brought it on themselves. There was no feeling of hate in the North against the South. If the equal rights of all the people in the South were secure, the people of the North would be satisfied. It was true the amendment had not turned out as expected, because no man dreamed such measures as had been resorted to in the South would be resorted to to deprive the negro of his rights. No one had dreamed of Ku Klux clans and all the savage machinery by which that exclusion had been perfected.

Butler suggested that the reconstruction measures of the fifteenth amendment were not so much due to objectionable legislation in the South as to the conflict between Andrew Johnson and the republican congress.

Sherman replied that the selection of Andrew Johnson, a Southern man and a democrat, for the vice-presidency was proof of the generous treatment the North had shown the South, but Johnson had deserted the republican party and turned his back upon it when he came into power, and congress tied his hands and prevented him carrying out his policy.

Butler—Then I understand the senator from Ohio to admit that the Southern people are not alone responsible, but that Andrew Johnson, his president, was also responsible for the enactment of extreme measures against the South.

Sherman—I look upon Andrew Johnson as a Southern man and a democrat.

Butler—He was your republican president, and the people of the South had no other authority to look to after they surrendered except the executive.

Sherman—The Southern people had the right to look to congress as the governing power of the country.

Sherman went on to say to the senators on the other side that there is a feeling in the North that not only have the negroes of the South been deprived of their votes, but that the people of the South now enjoy larger political power than the same number of people in the North. Let the South obey the constitutional amendments. Let it give the negro his vote and permit him to vote as he will. I would not care if the whole of the negroes would vote the democratic ticket, but this feeling of injustice does prevail in the North, that while you are depriving the colored people of their votes you are exercising undue power in the government. The North denies hatred, but demands justice, and I say beyond and above this educational bill or [illegible] pending measure [illegible] an act of congress [illegible] in the United [illegible] cast his [illegible] congress [illegible] law that will [illegible] States affected [illegible] as South Carolina [illegible] just now and [illegible] complaint. Congress [illegible] in local affairs of the [illegible] we insist upon [illegible] will protect the right of suffrage and [illegible] law be executed with [illegible] power that no man dare expose himself to its penalty.

But in following [illegible] the conclusion colored men [illegible] political offices and [illegible] Northern states [illegible] was no such discrimination [illegible] every day and for [illegible] in the South. [illegible] have been teeming with the accounts of [illegible] in Oklahoma, and republicans among them announcing to the world that the colored people had no right to assert their right to control the territory by superiority of numbers [illegible] out at the point of the bayonet. He said he had seen accounts of outrages on colored people in Ohio and Indiana and [illegible] heard not one syllable of protest. He [illegible] the senator from Ohio that whenever he [illegible] tempted to carry out his threat of [illegible] on the South through supervisors [illegible] for the purpose of [illegible] would have fire in his [illegible] the men in the North who had carried their money and their industry into the South. Whenever an attempt [illegible] to re-establish in the South [illegible] reconstruction governments which had left [illegible] a black mark of [illegible] dishonor, disgrace and humiliation, there would be [illegible] in every state and county that would [illegible] before he [illegible] (Butler) would not exchange one foot of good order in the South for all the political [illegible] given the North. He appealed to [illegible] and people to believe that [illegible] they said they were far more interested [illegible] than people of the North could possibly be. Adjourned.

Nominations—Andrew Davidson, New York, first deputy commissioner of pensions, vice Smith, resigned; Joseph H. Hughes, receiver of public moneys, Spokane Falls; John M. Lewis, postmaster, East Portland.

Confirmations—Lieutenant-Colonel William Smith, to be paymaster-general, with the rank of brigadier general.

THE PUYALLUP RESERVATION.

Indians to Be Allowed to Lease to Railroads—Seattle and Tacoma Benefited.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—[Special Telegram.]—The fight of the three railroad companies which have been struggling to get the right of way over the Puyallup Indian reservation into Tacoma has been transferred to Washington. The readers of THE OREGONIAN have been informed of numerous memorials and petitions that have been introduced in the present session of congress by the Washington delegation asking on behalf of each of these companies right of way across the Puyallup lands. There are three principal companies contending for this right of way. The Puyallup Valley Railway Company wants to build a line up into the hop producing districts, and desires to get into Tacoma. The Washington Light, Power, Street Railway and Construction Company is supposed to be opposed to the Puyallup Valley Company, seeking the same right of way. Then there is the Portland & Puget Sound Company which asks right of way. This latter company is said to be merely a blind for the Union Pacific when it builds up to the Sound. The Northern Pacific Company desires to utilize a portion of the Indian lands for terminals and station grounds. By an act of July [illegible] and the construction placed upon an executive order of February 2, 1889, the consent of a majority of all the adult male Indians occupying the reservation was necessary to secure right of way. In every effort made by any of the above companies to secure right of way the other companies took a hand and kept the Indians from signing; consequently each company has failed.

Bills were introduced in this session of congress to repeal certain clauses of the law relating to the Puyallup Indians so that these companies could secure right of way. The committee on Indian affairs has been considering these bills and the conflicting interests, and are about ready to report a general bill which will give each of the companies the same privilege. The committee are inclined to the opinion that as the lands over which the several roads will run are nearly all allotted in severalty the Indians are not subject to the provisions of the act preventing roads from running through their reservation without their consent; that, having taken lands under the severalty act, they have become citizens of the United States and are subject to the same laws relative to right of way that the white people are. Yet there is a provision that the Indians cannot sell or lease their lands after taking them for a period of years. The bill will provide that they may make contracts with the companies under the direction of the secretary of the interior, which will allow the companies to use the land and acquire title at the end of twenty five years. It has been represented that there is no other direct way for roads to get into Tacoma from Seattle and secure terminal facilities other than by going through the Indian lands. It has been also represented that the lands sought to be occupied are of no particular value to the Indians, except to be disposed of for railroad yards. It is believed that behind each of these companies is a larger railroad. By the proposed bill the cities of Seattle and Tacoma will be brought close together. The reservation lies between them, and at present railroads have to skirt the Indian lands.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

The Proper Place to Land Immigrants.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The senate and house committees on immigration held their first joint meeting to-day, at which Secretary Windom and Solicitor Hepburn, of the treasury department, were present. The former made a statement of the reasons that had induced him to take charge of the landing of immigrants at New York. In the course of this statement it was developed that the Ford committee of the last congress in their report recommended that the national government take charge of the matter. The report of the manner in which operations at Castle Garden were conducted and of the condition of affairs there, the secretary said, also seemed to warrant, if not demand, a change. When asked why he selected Bedloe's island, he said Governor's island would suit the department, but the military objected. The treasury department had a foothold on Bedloe's island, and it was in addition deemed to be a proper place to land immigrants, under the shade of the statue of Liberty.

Southern Oregon Mails.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—[Special Telegram.]—Representative Hermann to-day presented to the department a petition from citizens of Douglas county, Oregon, requesting the establishment of a daily mail service from the town of Myrtle Creek to Glendale via Canyonville and Galesville, Douglas county. It is represented by him that the proposed route is largely along the old Oregon stage road in Southern Oregon, and that the mail service this way will very much convenience the people en route.

SKINNING THE GUDGEONS.

The Gamblers Flourish in Anacortes as in Other Live Cities.

ANACORTES, March 10.—[Special Correspondence.]—Contrary to expectation, the [illegible] steamer did not put in an appearance here this trip. The best of feeling seemed to prevail throughout the city to-day owing to the news that the Great Northern was going to [illegible] and must eventually run into Anacortes. During the entire day crowds were to be seen here and there discussing the situation and the glorious future in store for Anacortes.

Building still continues and the recent planking of the streets and avenues has changed the entire appearance of the city for the better.

Incorporation will be hailed by all citizens who respect peace and order, as then the "tin-horn gambling houses," now a source of great annoyance, will be entirely shut down.

It is notorious that at these "dens" it is almost an impossibility to win anything, and the wonder is that so many "greenhorns" are to be found who are willing to be duped.

The McKanlass Minstrel troupe arrived here to-day and open to-night at the Club theater. They paraded the streets at noon with their brass band, the first that has been heard in the new and flourishing city.

The formation of an agnostic club is talked of, and certainly no better place on the Sound could be found for such an institution.

The last sad rites were performed to-day over the remains of the late J. McIn[illegible], an old pioneer. A large number of friends and old settlers followed the funeral to the grave.

The Chamber of Commerce is making rapid progress, over $5000 having been subscribed to it in cash. The number of members has been limited to 300, and the object of the organization is to acquire a suitable site and erect a creditable building adapted to the uses of such organization, to incorporate under the laws of the state of Washington, and to work unitedly for the welfare and benefit of the said city of Anacortes. The list of members contains nearly all the prominent capitalists and citizens of Anacortes.

WHAT THE OTHERS SAY

Answer to the "Manifesto," by Three of the Committee.

A PLEA FOR STONE SIDEWALKS

A Fleeing Footpad, Who Made Good His Escape From an Officer.

THE DEMPSEY-M'CARTHY CONTEST

John Foran of East Portland Arrested on a Charge of Seduction—Trouble Over Electric Wires.

The following communication, addressed to THE OREGONIAN, which is signed by three members of the republican county central committee, is in response to the "manifesto" which appeared in these columns a few days ago, and will require no explanation:

PORTLAND, Or., March 13, 1890.

We notice by yesterday's OREGONIAN that our fellow members of the republican county central committee Messrs Bileck, Witherell and Carson, have kindly suggested to us what course we should pursue as members of the committee, and regret that they have seen fit to appeal to the public to assist them in governing our action without even consulting with us to see whether an agreement could be reached or not. We also note that they have very generously named all the judges for the primaries, among whom we see a prominent candidate for governor. While we have no particular objection to this, it might be well to allow other candidates a similar courtesy. While all the gentlemen named are good republicans and would make fair and honest judges, several of them have come to us of their own accord and stated that they had not been consulted, and would under no circumstances serve in that capacity. This being the case, we are willing to meet in committee and if they will permit us to make any suggestions we would like the privilege of filling the vacancies.

We heartily concur with our brother committeemen, that the primaries should be honestly and fairly conducted, and that judges of unquestioned integrity should be appointed to preside over the ballot box and count the votes.

They also state that "in view of what has already transpired and what is currently understood to be the programme mapped out by the remaining three committeemen," that no fair judges could be selected by the committee to conduct the primary election. In order that the public may fully understand what has already transpired, we will state that the committee has held but two meetings, at both of which only one matter was considered and that was to fill the vacancy caused by death of one of its members. At the first meeting, owing to the absence of that "eminent citizen A. W. Witherell, we adjourned. At the second meeting we presented the name of a republican, whose fidelity to his party had never been questioned, and they presented a name upon which we will comment hereafter. There was then an equal division and we adjourned without filling the vacancy. If we had desired to take any unfair advantage of them, we could have done so at the first meeting.

As the name suggested by them to fill such vacancy was a man whose last action in politics was to affiliate with the democracy, and by his earnest efforts in their behalf, assisted by his political adherents, succeeded in defeating two republican councilmen and whose action as chairman of the republican state central committee in the memorable campaign of 1886, in issuing bogus tickets, resulted in the defeat of the republican candidate for supreme judge, and by so doing brought upon himself the censure of almost the entire republican press of the state, we did not think that in justice to ourselves or the party, we could consent to his election or that under those circumstances, his selection would have in any way, assured the party that a fairer count of the votes at the coming primaries could have been had, than the present committee, without his assistance could provide. And further we feel assured that if we had agreed to the name suggested by Messrs Witherell, Bileck and Carson that they would not have appealed to the public through the press, to direct their action, but would have quietly and smoothly selected judges, in their opinion, satisfactory to have conducted the primary election and no one would have been asked or permitted to have assisted them in performing their then agreeable duty which they were selected by the last convention to do.

Now then we will state that as the last republican county convention selected the present committee to do its duty, we are ready and willing to perform our part.

We hold that the success of the republican ticket in the coming campaign is paramount to all private or selfish interests, that when men are called upon to perform a certain duty for the party that they should exercise every effort in their power to do so, and in a manner that would best insure the success of the ticket that no man should be placed in such a position, whose action toward his own ticket and party has been treasonable we can never meet with success or hold the confidence of the members of our party unless every trust reposed in us is faithfully and honestly carried out.

And we earnestly feel that if we should adopt a policy of selecting as our leaders, and place in a position of power and trust men whose every conduct, when their personal or selfish interests have not been gratified has been to turn against the party and its candidates, fairly nominated, and use every effort in their power and all the political machinery, which by virtue of their position of trust has been placed within their reach, to secure the defeat of the ticket which justice and fair dealing would call upon them to use every effort to elect, that we should then be traitors to the trust and confidence reposed in us by our convention.

As we have stated before, we prefer to do our work in committee and not through the press, as it is not good policy to inform the opposite party of our movements, or parade our dissensions, if any exist, before the public, but if we are forced to that position, then we call upon every republican who loves his party and wants honest and competent men to be selected as our standard bearers and representatives to stand by us in our efforts to secure that result. Respectfully submitted,

JAMES LOTAN,
J. A. BROWN,
JAMES M. STOTT.

A PLEA FOR STONE SIDEWALKS.

Artificial Pavements Could Be Laid Here as Cheaply as Anywhere Else.

Mr J. O. Gardiner, of San Jose, Cal., is in the city. He has made a pretty thorough inspection of Portland since his arrival and is much pleased with the city, but says it is far behind many California towns of less importance in the matter of sidewalks. He says it is discreditable to Portland that there should be so many rough wooden sidewalks on the principal streets and around the grounds of many of her wealthy citizens. In most of the towns of California he says there are miles of artificial stone sidewalks, which are better in every way and healthier, and cost but little more in the long run. As we have direct connection with England by ships, cement is as cheap here as in California, and judging from the artificial stone sidewalks he has seen here, Mr Gardiner says there are as good workmen in that line here as anywhere and it is a wonder to him that there are not more of these walks.

AND THE FOOTPAD FLED.

An Officer's Opportune Arrival Saved Their Purses and Valuables.

Several nights since, as Officer Bird was walking along Sixteenth street, his attention was called to a man near the intersection of S street, who was doing the highway robber act in the regular Missouri bushwhacker style. He had ordered a gentleman and lady to hold up their hands and was about to go through their clothing when the officer hove in sight. Officer Bird hastened his footsteps and yelled to the footpad to stand still. The thug was not inclined that way, however for no sooner did he see the officer when he started off on a run that would have done credit to any professional sprinter. The officer's commands to halt were of no avail and he was obliged to send a bullet after the fleeing footpad. The ball struck, it has been learned since in the man's arm, but even this did not bring him to a standstill. He kept on running, and made his escape in the darkness. The gentleman and lady felt more at ease when the officer put in an appearance, and they are still in possession of their purses and valuables, which the footpad would undoubtedly have captured.

CLEVER EXHIBITION OF THE MANLY ART.

Jack Dempsey and Billy McCarthy Entertained About 2000 People Last Evening.

The Dempsey-McCarthy glove contest at the Mechanics' pavilion last evening drew at least 2000 people, and the spectators saw a most clever exhibition of the manly art of self defense. Their appreciation was evidenced by frequent outbursts of applause. What the Nonpareil, who holds the championship of the world in the middle weight class and the plucky Australian don't know about boxing is not worth knowing. The four rounds were lively and spirited, every move of both men being dominated by great generalship. The exhibition was scientific and clever and the men showed many of the decisive moves and strategy [illegible] known to prize ring contests. The [illegible] were well pleased although the contest was not given with the zest that characterize [illegible] to a finish. It was scientific boxing, they [illegible] and in that their expectations were [illegible].

Several boxing contests between amateurs preceded the event of the evening and though the finished work was seen, they furnished considerable amusement.

But Dempsey is mad! And it may be added that he has a good right to be. Although there were fully 2000 people in the house the door receipts were only $725. Tickets were sold at $1.50, $1 and 50 cents, and there was treachery some where. Dempsey and McCarthy were assured $250 each and they were to divide 75 per cent of all the money taken in above $500. As there was no surplus there were no dividends. Dempsey was asked to come here to receive a benefit, but out of the goodness of his heart he refused to accept it unless he could have Billy McCarthy whom he defeated in San Francisco share the benefit with him. Yesterday afternoon he chartered a special train from Tacoma at an expense of $175 to meet his appointment and now he is actually out of pocket. He feels more sorry for McCarthy than for himself. He attributes his disappointment largely to the wrangle over the pavilion. There is evidently something wrong with the management or else the receipts last night would have been larger. There is a probability that some of the spectators got in the "back way."

Dempsey and McCarthy leave by steamer State of California for San Francisco this evening.

If the Murphy-Warren fight comes off in San Francisco to-night the result will be received by rounds at M. Dee's Turf Exchange.

AN EAST PORTLAND SENSATION

John Foran, a Furniture Dealer, Arrested on a Serious Charge

John Foran a furniture dealer doing business on Fourth street between H and I in East Portland, was arrested by Constable Simmons yesterday morning on a charge of seducing Miss Ida Calkins. The complainant is Mrs Fanny Calkins mother of Ida who is just budding into womanhood. It is claimed that on the [illegible] of last November, under promise of marriage Foran committed his crime. At the time the family lived in Stephens addition. The father was away from the city working on a ranch which he recently located down on the Columbia. They came to East Portland about five years ago and formerly lived in Kansas where they were well acquainted with Foran.

Last June Foran came to Oregon and began in business at his present location and resumed his acquaintance with the family. Foran frequently called at the house, being on excellent terms with them all.

About three months ago Mrs Calkins moved her family to Albina where they since have lived. Ten days since her daughter was taken ill with a violent fever and a doctor was called. He made a hasty examination and turning to the mother, said

"Madam is the young woman married?"

"No sir," replied Mrs Calkins.

"Well, though she ought to be."

The broken-hearted mother then plied Ida with questions regarding the author of her shame, and at last under protest, his name was given. The physician prescribed for the girl, who was suffering with malarial fever, and the mother at once consulted the authorities.

The arrest followed. Foran is about forty five years old and single. He was taken before Justice Wood and gave bonds in the sum of $500. He has little to say about the affair but has intimated a desire to marry the girl if permitted to do so.

TROUBLE OVER ELECTRIC LIGHT POLES

Work Stopped by an Injunction Sworn Out by Henry Failing

Late Wednesday afternoon Mr Henry Failing filed papers in the circuit court asking that the Willamette Falls Electric Company be enjoined from erecting poles and doing other work tending to injure his property on Third and Washington streets.

Yesterday morning Deputy Sheriff Salmon found a man named Joe McFarland, an employe of the company, perched high up on one of the poles in that locality. The man said that the courts and injunctions be hanged but after a brief argument Mr Salmon placed the faithful servant under arrest. He was taken to superintendent Morey's office, and there released on his personal recognizance, to appear in court Monday to answer a contempt charge.

The long range dialogue between the deputy sheriff and McFarland on the pole attracted quite a crowd. McFarland was exempt from arrest as long as he remained on his lofty perch, unless the officer chose to go up after him, and many thought that he would win the day. He finally concluded to come down, however, and as he walked off with the officer the crowd dispersed. It appears that the trouble was the result of a misunderstanding as the company were not going to increase the number of poles on the corner, but were putting up one to take the place of two or three now standing near the corner.

POLES GOING UP

Anacortes Will Soon Have Telegraph Connection With the Rest of the World.

ANACORTES, March 11.—[Special Correspondence.]—It is not exaggerating in the slightest to say that the progress of Anacortes stands unparalleled in the history of the state. The erection of the poles for the telegraph line was commenced this morning, and before many days have elapsed, several miles will be completed, and give the city connection with any part of the world. There appears to be no half measures with the members of the city Improvement Company, they possess a will and energy that will certainly make a city.

The state of Washington will soon make the other states look to their laurels.

Several large real estate deals were chronicled to-day, one being a $18,000 sale of acreage property, and in addition several lots changed hands at $5000 and $6000 each.

The only complaint to be heard now, is the want of more suitable sleeping accommodation but this will soon be a "thing of the past," as the Hotel Anacortes will be opened in a few days and several first class boarding houses and smaller hotels are nearing completion.

The wharves presented a very lively scene this morning during the time of discharging some of the railway gear from the boats and those who were dubious about investing in real estate are now eagerly seeking lots in the vicinity of the proposed railway route.

The contract for planking Second street, from O to Q was let to-day, and a force of men will be put on without delay, all this work is being done by property owners who have shown their utmost faith in the future of the city of Anacortes.

A HUSTLING FIRM.

Port Townsend Morning Leader.

A new real estate office is to be opened in this city by Hughes, Brown & Co., one of the leading real estate firms of Portland. The firm will be located in the Phillips block next to the Townsend National bank and when fitted up this will be one of the finest suites of rooms in the city. Their office in Portland is also one of the finest in the Northwest. The business here will be looked after by Mr Brown, member of the firm from Portland, and Hon. A. W. Bash our fellow townsman. The new firm already has some of the best property in the market for sale, and desires to announce that those having property for sale will find it to their advantage to call on Messrs Hughes, Brown & Co. We wish the new firm success.

WHAT YOU SHOULD HAVE

There is no article of furniture that is so greatly appreciated in a house as an easy lounge. Papa when his day's work is over throws himself on the lounge, picks up the evening paper and prepares to make himself comfortable. Mamma when tired out often rests on this same lounge and it is the resting place of the entire family. While you are getting a lounge get the Hoey patent bed lounge, which is a perfect piece of sitting room furniture, and one of the best beds made. Made only by the Hoey & Wheeler Furniture Manufacturing Company, 170 First street.

GET THE BEST.

When you do buy a piano or an organ get only the matchless Decker Brothers' piano and the Mason & Hamlin organ. These instruments have stood the test of time. They have circled the globe and they have never yet suffered in any fair contest. Both of these magnificent instruments are kept only by Messrs Winter & Harper, the leading music dealers of the city, at 71 Morrison, and they are worthy of the closest inspection.

BEFORE THE BLIND GODDESS

The Supreme Court Holds That Sheriff Kelly Pays for No Blankets.

The Builders' Exchange—Holder Found Guilty—Divorce Matters—Water for East Portland—Judge Tanner's Grist

The Builders Exchange of Portland filed articles of incorporation with the clerk of the county court yesterday. The objects of the organization are somewhat numerous among them must be noted the following:

To form a deliberate and an association of all employers in the various building trades for mutual protection and benefit to the end of [illegible] preventing or suffering strikes and to justly arbitrate or other lawful means any differences arising between employers and employes in the building trades to settle disputes between members and others arising out of matters connected with the building trades to furnish and control suitable room or a building to promote building interests, and to establish safeguards and justice and the interests of patrons demand to establish and maintain schools for the education of youth in the various building trades to establish and maintain a uniform [illegible] usages of the builders trades by rules and regulations [illegible].

The exchange is to be governed by an executive board consisting of John Fling, J. J. Owens, William Palmer, I. B. Bridges, W. H. Moore, William Sutcliffe, G. Zanell, John Lovey and W. H. Wilton.

The capital stock is placed at $10 and John Fling, W. H. Moore, William Palmer, John Fling, J. J. Owens and John Lovey subscribe their names as incorporators.

KELLY PAYS FOR NO BLANKETS.

It will be remembered that in the suit of Sheriff Penumbra Kelly against Multnomah county, to compel the county to pay for blankets which he had purchased for the use of prisoners in the county jail, Judge Shattuck decided in favor of the county on the demurrer to the complaint. Kelly appealed the case to the supreme court and yesterday a mandate was received from that body sustaining the position of the sheriff. The matter is now settled and hereafter it will be incumbent upon the county to pay for all blankets and other supplies required for the maintenance of county prisoners.

EAST SIDE WATER COMPANY.

Articles of incorporation were yesterday filed by the East Side Water Company with a capital stock of $150,000. Louis Nicolai, Cyrus Buckman, C. H. Rafferty and H. C. Myers are the incorporators, and the object of the concern is to furnish the residents of East Portland with good wholesome and unadulterated aqua pura at paying rates.

ONE HUSBAND TOO MANY.

Mrs. Ida S. Burgan appeared before Judge Stearns yesterday afternoon to have the court annul the marriage contract existing between herself and husband D. O. Burgan, who was formerly a clerk in the Portland Savings bank.

The woman testified that she was married to her husband in Kansas in 188[illegible] and they came here a little more than a year ago. Two years after their marriage the defendant began to drink to such an excess as to neglect his business and family.

In February, 1889 Mrs. Burgan, unable to live with him longer, owing to his drunken habit, left him and has since then supported herself and two children.

About four months ago Burgan was convicted in Salem for obtaining money under false pretenses and is now serving a term in the penitentiary.

Only two witnesses were examined and the case was continued to give the plaintiff opportunity to introduce more testimony.

HOLDER FOUND GUILTY.

The jury in the case of Joseph Holder, tried in the criminal court Wednesday on an indictment accusing him of selling liquor without a license deliberated upon the matter until 9:30 o'clock in the evening when they returned a verdict finding Holder guilty as charged but added a postscript to the written verdict recommending him to the mercy of the court. The minimum fine is $200, and the maximum is $400. Judge Stearns has as yet made no order in the matter.

A LIGHT ESTATE.

The appraisers of the estate of the late ex Governor George L. Woods filed their report in the probate court yesterday, showing the estate to be worth $3247 as follows: One desk, $30; three chairs $4.50; one pair elk horns, $2.50; two volumes of the history of the Pacific Northwest $10, and an undivided one-half interest in the donation land claim of Caleb Woods in Yamhill county.

"HE HAS DESERTED ME."

Luella Ingersoll yesterday afternoon instituted divorce proceedings in the state circuit court against her husband Carlos I. Ingersoll. She bases her plea on the ground of desertion, claiming that her husband left her some time ago and refuses to live with her. The couple were married in Detroit, Michigan, July [illegible] 188[illegible].

HIGLEY'S TRIAL TO-DAY.

C. B. Higley, the hack driver indicted for aiding W. B. Daniels in abducting Maud Miller, will be a prisoner at the bar before Judge Stearns to-day. Higley drove the hack, while Daniels was engineering the nefarious scheme for which he has to serve a seven years sentence in the penitentiary.

NO FREE CIGARS.

Yesterday morning B. F. Cohn began an action in the circuit court against E. Cohn & Co., to recover $140.50 for cigars sold and delivered defendants.

The Municipal Courts.

In the police court yesterday the usual judicial grist was ground out.

S. Quiveland, Andrew Madjeson, William Monroe, Charley McLaughlin and James Clark drunks, $5. Fred Ikeman and George Mowdy ex-pressmen who were skylarking at the Northern Pacific depot yesterday were convicted of fighting and fined $10 each. George S. Taylor, allowing a vicious dog to run at large, forfeited $10. John Parson accused of being a vagrant, was discharged and the same order was made in the case of S. P. Hanson charged with obstructing the sidewalk.

Ah Bing, a Chinaman charged with sawing wood on a sidewalk was fined $5 but the court remitted the fine and let him go.

DID HE STEAL THE "WASHEE"?

Sun Pin Ling is the name of a Chinaman of the wash house persuasion who was up before Justice Bilies yesterday afternoon on a charge of larceny by bailee. The complainant is Mrs. M. J. Johnston, a tenant of the Knickerbocker house and if her story is true, and there is no reason to doubt it, it looks very much as if the Chinaman had appropriated about $70 worth of clothes. The case was continued until Saturday in order to give counsel an opportunity to prepare arguments.

FINED FOR ASSAULT.

C. M. Crangle was fined $5 in Justice Wood's court yesterday afternoon for assaulting C. A. Petrachia. Petrachia paid several fines for similar offenses some days ago.
